

From: Alyssa Owens <afowens1@msn.com>
Sent: Friday, December 18, 2009 1:40 PM
To: ATR-Agricultural Workshops <agriculturalworkshops@usdoj.gov>
Subject: Comments

My family and I are concerned that Monsanto has a monopoly on the seed and production of the entire food industry. They are mass producing corn, for instance and then, the corn is fed to beef and pigs and other meat sources. That corn has been genetically engineered; it is laced with the herbicide Roundup. Pesticides are not safe for people to ingest from their food sources. Monsanto has gotten too big and too greedy. They have too much control over the world's food supply and this directly affects everyone's health as well as the economy. Please do your best to break up this monopoly and to initiate a thorough investigation into their practices. They are poisoning us. We need to stop this or we will all be dying from cancers and other diseases (diabetes and heart disease... that are related to hormonal disruption which is a modern illness that comes from the many unnecessary chemicals that are made and used by these greedy companies who produce our foods, etc. It is time for all of us to wake up and learn about what these big companies are doing to us and our future generations. Everyone is affected by what a company like Monsanto chooses to do for profit. Thank you for your time and let us hope that this is resolved. Life as we know it is at stake.

Alyssa Owens

, 03431