Subject: My personal concerns regarding food sources

Thank you for beginning to do something about Big Food.

Personally, I am afraid of the Big Food corporations behaviors in the world, especially Monsanto's. My belief about Big Food corporations is that they operate solely to make profit; and, in the doing of that, they have no regard for my health or well-being and will willingly harm me for the sake of profit.

The more genuine competitors that Big Food corporations have, the more likely the people who eat food will benefit.

Thank you for including my input in your consideration of this important issue.
