I am writing because I am concerned about the lack of competition in agricultural markets.

I also have an organic vegetable garden & now have to wonder what's in our seeds. As a cancer survivor I have no wish to put more toxins in my body. I try to buy organic foods as their labels show where food is grown & that the soil is free from pesticides. No wonder there's a need for health reform, with all the chemicals in our foods, the nation's health is certainly compromised. I don't know which is worse, the insurance lobbyists or agribusiness giants.

I sure hope you & your department will do something about this horrendous corporate control over my food supply.

Sincerely,

Roberta E. Charles
