Subject: Comments

I have long been concerned that our agriculture is being hijacked by large agribusinesses. Patenting seeds which have been used by indigenous people for centuries, suing farmers, whose crops have been contaminated by genetically engineered seeds, making small farmers just like share croppers on their own land and so many other unfair and uncompetitive practices is outrageous.

Please, let small farmers, indigenous peoples, farm animals and the consumer have some justice!!

Thank you for giving me the opportunity to comment.

Sincerely,

Gisela Ray
