US Department of Justice

Dear US Department of Justice:

Monsanto has clearly violated many laws and simple morale practices. I am sure you have receive correspondences detailing these crimes. please punish this and other similar companies.

It is very demoralizing as the average American facing the hardships of this recession to see a company get away with so many crimes just because they have the money.

Please, follow your heart, follow the law, and I am sure these evil doers will get what they deserve.

Sincerely,

Christine Schultz
