Subject: label GMO's!

I am just upset that big corporations are not required to label if food is genetically modified. I have noticed that as soon as I switched to a diet that contained fewer processed foods my allergies got better. However, it is still hard for me to avoid GMO's unless I grow things in my .garden or from local farmers I know.

Please require the labelling of GMO's so consumers can choose. This is one of the most important issues for me. Not only a health issue but a spiritual one. I believe it is morally wrong to modify on a large scale living organisms and patent them.

You should support local organic farmers.
