

From: Leanne Kersey <lmkersey@hotmail.com>
Sent: Saturday, December 19, 2009 11:03 PM
To: ATR-Agricultural Workshops <agriculturalworkshops@usdoj.gov>
Subject: Comments

I am writing because I am concerned about the lack of competition in agricultural markets.

One company, in particular, should be of greatest concern at the moment. Monsanto controls the majority of seeds in the US, and they regularly threaten, and even sue, farmers who don't buy its seeds.

As a consumer, I DO NOT WANT TO BUY MONSANTO PRODUCTS, yet I have no way of knowing with certainty what products contain their GMOs. Why? Partly because many of the government regulators are Monsanto people--either former employees or lobbyists.

Their methods of farming are environmentally unsound, biologically unwise, and they presume that wiping out all but their seeds is safe. It is far from safe.

Stop Monsanto's botanical genocide.

Sincerely,

Leanne Kersey, M.D.

Leanne Kersey

, 37920