I am writing because I am concerned about the lack of competition in agricultural markets.

Monsanto controls the majority of seeds in the U.

S. and regularly threatens farmers who don't buy its seeds. Some corn seeds have been grown by natives of an area for centuries and perfected along the way. Monsanto comes in, plants crops along side, wind carries M's seeds to natives' fields and ruins centuries of work. It's unjust and immoral.

Thank you for giving me the opportunity to comment.

Sincerely,

Mary Sullivan
