

From: coal point <fish@alaska.net>
Sent: Sunday, December 20, 2009 2:23 PM
To: ATR-Agricultural Workshops <agriculturalworkshops@usdoj.gov>
Subject: Monsanto NO MORE

---

Pioneer Alaskan Fisheries Inc.
Nancy J. Hillstrand
4306 Homer Spit
Homer Alaska 99603
907-235-9772
www.welovefish.com

Greetings

I have always been hopping mad over the lax oversight of chemical saturation of the natural world. I extremely pleased to hear that the Department of Justice is taking action to rein this insidious poisonous problem in.

We are a 47 year old Alaskan corporation called Pioneer Alaskan Fisheries Inc. We are in the Fish Processing and Fish Marketing Business. Clean pristine water allows our Seafood to be healthy and nutritious. We promote a clean planet with sustainable quality fisheries. We take this very seriously.

Please stop the onslaught of our food, water, soil and air by huge mega- corporations Like Monsanto. We are being inundated with insecticides, herbicides, genetically modified food, legal chemical side effect laden drugs and toxic chemicals running in our waterways and our bloodstreams.

Is it no wonder cancers are so prevalent in this society? Is it surprising that diseases run rampant where we condone the "snakebite salesmen" like Monsanto to sell their toxic wares to grow our foods and flush our waterways with the residuals?

Huge Corporate control of our foods, farms, seed banks is breaking Americas back. This monopoly is like a slow motion explosion poisoning our bodies our vegetables our meats our fish our wildlife and our children. All to make a buck at our expense. It is despicable!

It is unacceptable to allow these poisons to continue to be produced and literally crammed down our throats. Bio technologies are dangerous to diversity and the disease resistance of our crops into the future. They blow into conscientious farmers fields and leapfrog throughout our planet.

Even when we ban nasty chemical poisons like DDT for instance, the producers end up selling their noxious toxins to other countries who unwittingly continue the cycle of poisons to continue.

When I think of how hard we strive to put up a good clean quality product while toxics are insidiously leaching daily into our water systems affecting everything in their path it makes my blood boil to think we have been duped by salesmen infiltrating so many facets of our society.

Chemicals are everywhere in everything and their professed cures are far worse and persistent than the problems they are touted to heal.

How has this chemical deluge and saturation gotten such a strangle hold so deep in our society. The chemical age must be lassoed under control. Permits need to be scrutinized. The toxic chemical soups must cease to be produced. The circle of poisons going to other countries must be stopped. We need to clean up our mess.

Thank-you for your dedication. I am in hopes that your ranks do not hold past executives of these mega-corporations like Monsanto so the fox is not allowed to watch over the chicken coop so a blind eye is turned on this issue. We plan to pay special attention to this process and ask to be put on your mailing or e-mail lists so we remain informed.

Thank-you for your attention.

Nancy Hillstrand
bear@alaska.net