

From: Nic Riv <nicriv37@yahoo.com>
Sent: Wednesday, December 23, 2009 11:32 AM
To: ATR-Agricultural Workshops <agriculturalworkshops@usdoj.gov>
Subject: Comments

---

I am tired of not being given an informed choice in the food my family buys.

All foods that have been genetically modified and sold in the marketplace should have a label stating that it contains GMO.

If the label says "organic", it should be 100% organic, not 10% with diluted organic ingredients and 90% something else.

The USDA and FDA are too influenced by lobbyists.

When the President hires a former Monsanto lobbyist as a consultant concerning the nation's food supply, that tells me the government is not truly interested in its citizens health and wellbeing.

When you take away a people's choice, you effectively control what they eat.

It is time somebody did something. Are you up for the challenge?

Sincerely,

Nicolas Riv

Nic Riv

, 02140