

From: - Coco <separatinco-any@yahoo.com>
Sent: Thursday, December 31, 2009 12:30 AM
To: ATR-Agricultural Workshops <agriculturalworkshops@usdoj.gov>
Subject: Comments

Monsanto controls most of the seeds in the US and is very unfair and even harmful to farmers who don't purchase their seeds.

Labels should indicate where the food came from, what chemicals were used on it and if it is genetically modified. For me, this is very important to know. I care about what I eat.

Crops are grown in ways that are detrimental and not sustainable for our environment. They poison the air and water and harm the workers.

Thank you for giving me the opportunity to comment.

Sincerely,
Coco

- Coco

, 80304