It's all about business. We've all heard it all before. There will be no end to the power and devastation of greed and it's abundant abuses. Unfortunately, the days are over for taking food control back. Monsanto and previous others in charge have narrowed capitalism into a bottle and there will be no letting out until the glass breaks. Sorry, it's true. We are screwed because of ill monitoring and there are too many to blame to even begin a rebuilding of the system. The powers that be won't EVER let that happen because there is too much for them to lose! This is the evidence of Democracy at it's best people! Power perverts you know.
