

From: Gail & Harriet [mailto:greh[REDACTED]]
Sent: Wednesday, June 13, 2012 1:57 PM
To: Read, John
Cc: jail[REDACTED]; d[REDACTED]
Subject: antitrust lawsuit against several publishers and Apple over e-books

John Read
Chief, Litigation III Section
Antitrust Division
U.S. Department of Justice
450 5th Street, NW, Suite 4000
Washington, DC 20530

Dear Mr. Read,

Subj: antitrust lawsuit against several publishers and Apple over e-books

In all insincerity, it is appropriate that your last name is Read.

In a democratic society, it is only fair that everyone should be recompensed for their labor in whatever capacity and in whatever business. Book publishers, corporate and independent, in the various forms should qualify for this fairness, as well as everyone involved in producing a print or e-book.

Competition is vital to providing everyone with choices in producing, selling, buying commodities and setting prices so that products are available to everyone at fair and reasonable prices.

If this lawsuit is successful, the result can reduce or eliminate competition among both retailers and publishers, in a sense, creating monopolies.

Pease do not let this happen. A fair marketplace is vital for all.

Sincerely,
Harriet M. Schwartzburt
1135 Buckley Road
St. Louis, MO
314-845-3580
greh[REDACTED]

Gail
greh[REDACTED]