

From: Nehring [mailto:springho11[REDACTED]]
Sent: Saturday, June 23, 2012 2:22 PM
To: Read, John [John.Read@ATR.USDOJ.gov]
Subject: CAREFUL!

The DOJ support of Amazon may have consequences you don't understand at this point. Amazon's deep pockets allow them to rule the marketplace by dropping prices below what brick and mortar booksellers can offer and stay in business. It's even worse than the walmarting of America. (Or, the world.) Agency pricing is not an evil, but a protection. I even saw one of my books offered on Amazon today for $00.01. Yes, they have that right, but I sure don't make a penny from that sale! Please protect American small businesses, as well as our publishers and authors. We all deserve fair payment for our work.

Radine Radine Trees Nehring,
2011 Inductee: Arkansas Writers' Hall of Fame
<http://www.RadinesBooks.com> <http://radine.wordpress.com> Now available:
A FAIR TO DIE FOR from Oak Tree Press