

From: Edgerton, Clyde [mailto:edgerto[REDACTED]]
Sent: Friday, June 22, 2012 10:18 PM
To: Read, John {John.Read@ATR.USDOJ.gov}
Subject: amazon

Sir, I'm a writer of novels and a reader. I believe it's wrong to hand an advantage to Amazon in methods of selling books, especially e-books. Our culture and the business of selling, buying, and reading books needs brick and mortar book stores and Amazon is out to kill them as a consequence of greed and a lack of concern for our culture's literary heritage and future.

Thank you,
Clyde Edgerton