Subject: Amazon vs the little guy

Dear Mr. Read,

I must write to you to say that I find it amazing that the Department of Justice is effectively going to kick the last leg that the independent booksellers has against Amazon's cutthroat techniques.

The agency model for ebooks is the last defense against the wolf at the door and keeping our doors open for business.

I really hope you will take into consideration that this suit will only benefit Amazon. Not the general public.

Please reconsider.

Your Truly,

Naomi McEneely
