

From: Jim Fadiman [mailto:jfadim[REDACTED]]
Sent: Friday, June 22, 2012 8:01 PM
To: Read, John [John.Read@ATR.USDOJ.gov]
Subject: Amazon vs. bookstores, publishers and readers

I am not sure why allowing or encouraging one retailer to sell at a loss to destroy competition is in the best interests of any party- especially the citizens who depend, not on price but on availability of books of all sorts.

please don't further erode a free and competitive market.
one size fits all is not what is called a free market.

thank you for your wisdom and consideration in this matter.

James Fadiman, Ph.D. ( author of 10 books)