

From: Christopher Robbins [mailto:christoph[REDACTED] ]
Sent: Monday, June 25, 2012 2:26 PM
To: Read, John
Subject: Don't be myopic

John,

Don't be myopic. Collusion pales in comparison to the competitive issues we're dealing with here. Deciding to take up this anti-trust case is like the failed and wasted steroid case against baseball. At least there everyone was doing it and so it was still competitive.

As a citizen and taxpayer I just can't stand anymore our elected officials and public servants missing the forest for the trees.

What was once the strongest nation on earth has become so noncompetitive because of Government's unwise intervention.

If you need to spend money, audit Amazon's coop policy that is forced on the publishers with absolutely (ABSOLUTELY) zero accountability. When last that happened, AMS was forced into bankruptcy.

Wield your power wisely.

--

Let's talk family,

Christopher Robbins

Pater Familius (founder and president)

Familius Helping Families be Happy

801-552-7298 begin_of_the_skype_highlighting 801-552-
7298 end_of_the_skype_highlighting

www.familius.com

“Patience and fortitude conquer all things.” —Ralph Waldo Emerson, 1803-1882, poet and essayist