The Executive Office for Immigration Review Announces New Office of Legislative and Public Affairs Staff

FALLS CHURCH, VA – The Executive Office for Immigration Review (EOIR) today announced the hiring of two new personnel in the Office of Legislative and Public Affairs (OLPA). Nathan Berkeley joins the OLPA at Headquarters as the first outreach director and LaFondra Lynch will serve in Atlanta as the agency’s first regional public information officer (PIO). Both positions represent EOIR’s continued efforts to provide quality service to, and to learn from, Congress, news media and other agency stakeholders.

The outreach director will serve as a main point of contact for non-governmental organizations and other stakeholder groups interested in working with EOIR. The regional PIO position represents a pilot program to determine the magnitude to which the addition of regionally located OLPA staff increases responsiveness. Following training at Headquarters, the regional PIO will work from the Atlanta Immigration Court and will work with Headquarters staff on matters pertaining to Alabama, Florida, Georgia, Louisiana, Mississippi and Texas.
