Tom

Petters: Hey, gonna have your five million dollar problem taken care of with Ark Royal. Just talked to the two senior guys, Steve and the, those two guys that I met a week and a half ago that Friday when you were gone. That own that group. And ah they're gonna do something with us on, on ah Fingerhut or Zink or whatever today. Make enough money to pay Sabes. They're gonna, they're gonna take care of the 5 million to Jim Granat. Um, and, and I'll give you the details on it later and then we're gonna get those letters written up for these brokerage firms and we're getting that damn audit called off and then I'm gonna work on it real hard. I don't know where you are, but anyway, um, I've got meetings with Thane Ritchie and these guys this afternoon. So, I'll see you in a little while. Good-bye.

Machine: End of message.

Deanna

Coleman: Yeah?

Debbie

Lindstrom: Mike Phelps was looking for you earlier. He's got a question he needs to ask you verbally.

Coleman: Oh, okay.
