Tom

Petters: Yeah I know. And, and so here's the deal. Um, uh, I, I had, uh, Ritchie here. The guy that I've done billions of dollars with, and I just said listen, uh, this has gone beyond ridiculousness, and, uh, I gotta know if, I. And he says, uh, I can do part of it, and he just called me a minute ago and said I can do all of it and I can do it on Monday, so I said, uh, to Mark, lemme call Ted, I've been wanting to call him for three hours and four hours to find out what the hell I'm gonna do here because I said it's turned into a God damn fiasco. So, um, if you, your situation, I totally understand with the, ahh, with the family foundation, Ted this is the guy with the money. Lemme just, can I call you right back? I wanna see if he sent it or something. Okay. Call you right, call you right back.

Deanna

Coleman: (UI) heard back from him.

Petters: Henry. What'd he say? He told you that I said I wanted (UI) Fortress (UI)? I never said that. Bet he's playing a good line. So did you ask him about them coming out here? Well I don't, we don't really care. They're gon-, they're gonna care because what they, what they, the way they logged those payments in February, we can't show the fact that they didn't show payments on there, the auditors, man, I don't know how you answer to auditors when you replace collateral and you don't show, you want to know what the payments are. Well they weren't entitled to the payments. Fuck, I can't answer that for an auditor. Good, good, good. All right, good. Who did you, and it was Dave you talked to or who was it? Yep. Hm-hm. I'm not positive but I, I mean lemme put it this way. If we, I, if we have to say we'll wait till the end and I'll do a make whole with you guys on whatever's left, then we'll do that, you know. No, no, no, no, you're gonna get it from them. Trust me, you'll get it. Trust me, you'll get it (UI). I'm saying to you whatever they gotta do visibility to keep their fund going for a little while, they are, they may want to add the ten percent fee on the top and not show that their, their guys in the funds if they don't have a problem. They can always pay extra money out of their funds (UI) it may be disposable rent, that's all I'm saying, according to their auditors. So the reason I told you in the beginning we charge a ten percent fee on the top of what it is, it's actually more money anyway, is, versus the ten, you know what I mean? Yeah, I, I will, I'm gonna ask him, which way do you want it? Either way. I'll do it over the weekend. You and I'll talk about it. Okay? All right, thanks, bye.

Petters: So Dave told him that don't worry, there's no, we have a wonderful relationship with our auditors. Tom Petters will give you visibility, that's good for our auditors and, um, we'll call our auditors and talk to them. So I'm gonna call him.

Coleman: Call Dave, or Bruce?

Petters: Yeah, I'll call him.

Coleman: Yeah, just give me a call, um, and I think we're going out of town tonight but we'll be back Sunday morning, so

Petters: Are you going to the casino?

Coleman: Uh, no, I wish. No, we're just going home. It's, uh, um Elbow Lake. I still call that home.

Petters: Elbow.

Coleman: Elbow Lake. Um, but we'll be back early Sunday so give me a call...

Petters: Okay.

Coleman: ...and (UI)

Petters: Thanks for all this help.

Coleman: Yeah. And I can get together anytime Sunday if you want to so.

Petters: Okay then.

Coleman: Okay, have a good weekend, Tom.

Petters: I think I'll

Coleman: What?

Petters: I'm leaving Sunday night.

Coleman: You're le-, oh, I thought you were leaving Monday.

Petters: I was but now I don't have enough time to go down (UI) Sunday night. I wanna tell him Sunday night (UI). Poor me, huh.

Coleman: So, okay. Well, let me know if you want to get together.

Petters: I'll call ya.

Coleman: Okay.

Petters: Okay.

Coleman: Bye.

Petters: Thank you.

Coleman: Have a good one, thank you.

Petters: I'll call you about (UI)

Coleman: Yeah, let me know what's going on.
