John A.Horn
Acting U.S. Attorney, Northern District of Georgia

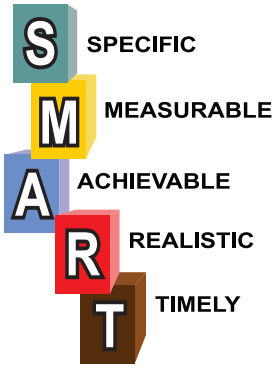
John A. Horn is the Acting United States Attorney in the Northern District of Georgia, (NDGA). A federal prosecutor since 2002, he previously served as First Assistant U.S. Attorney, Chief of the Appellate Division, and Deputy Chief of the Narcotics Section for the NDGA. His focus was on prosecuting cases involving international drug cartels, but he also prosecuted computer crimes and fraud cases and has argued appeals before the Eleventh Circuit Court of Appeals involving fraud schemes, child sex offenses and violent crimes.

Some of his notable cases include the prosecution of Carrollton doctor Phillip Astin III and kingpin Edgar Valdez-Villarreal. He also served as a member of the prosecution team for Centennial Olympic Park bomber Eric Rudolph.

Before joining the U.S. Attorney's Office, John worked in the white collar crime section at King & Spalding in Atlanta, GA, clerked for Judge Stanley F. Birch Jr. of the Eleventh Circuit Court of Appeals, and Judge Harold L. Murphy of the U.S. District Court for the Northern District of Georgia. John earned a law degree at the University of Virginia, School of Law, and a bachelors degree at the College of William and Mary in Virginia.

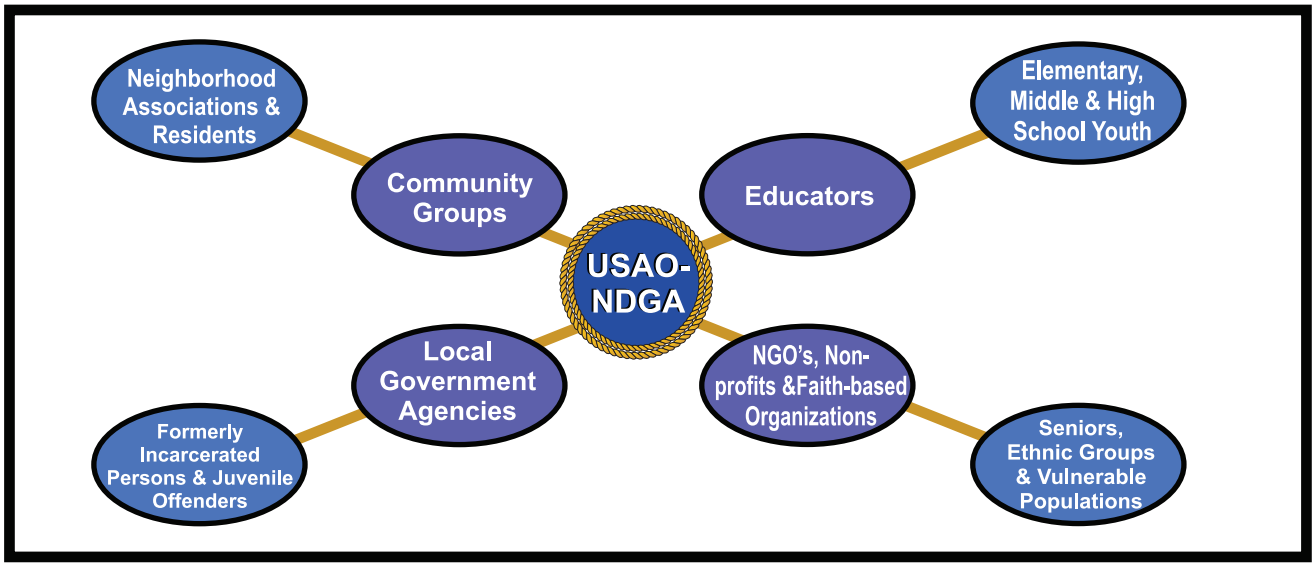
OUR MISSION

The United States Attorney's Office engages in community outreach to establish an ongoing dialogue with the public we serve and to work collaboratively to build safer communities. We seek to develop relationships with the residents, community groups, non-governmental organizations, local governments, educators, and vulnerable populations. We are committed to not only aggressively prosecuting those who violate the law, but also to understanding community needs and leading focused prevention and reentry efforts.



OUR GOALS

Goal 1: Expand violence prevention by partnering with community stakeholders to reach at-risk populations.

Goal 2: Strengthen enforcement efforts by addressing safety concerns and developing community trust.


Goal 3: Support successful ex-offender reentry through targeted programs focusing on reintegration into our communities.
