1. The Veterans Health Administration, which is administered by the U.S. Department of Veterans Affairs ("VA"), is the largest integrated health care system in the United States. The VA administers over 1,700 health care sites serving over 8.3 million veterans every year. The VA Medical Center in East Orange, New Jersey is part of the VA New Jersey Health Care System, which together with several community-based outpatient clinics throughout the State of New Jersey, endeavors to honor America's servicemen and women by providing exceptional health care to the veteran community.

2. JOHN R. STUCKEY is a veteran and is employed full-time by the VA at the VA Medical Center in East Orange as a food service worker. As a veteran and full-time employee of the VA Medical Center, JOHN R. STUCKEY had full access to the buildings and grounds of the VA Medical Center, as well as to veterans receiving treatment and attending programs at the VA Medical Center.

3. JOHN R. STUCKEY took advantage of his status as a veteran and VA employee by selling narcotics to another veteran while on the property of the VA Medical Center in East Orange.

4. Specifically, in April 2013, while employed with the VA, JOHN R. STUCKEY sold quantities of heroin to another veteran on two occasions at the VA Medical Center in East Orange.
