I have been a Special Agent of the FBI since 2009 during which time I have conducted numerous investigations, including investigations of official corruption. For approximately the last four years in Miami, I have been assigned to the Public Corruption Squad.

PURPOSE OF THE AFFIDAVIT

2. This affidavit is submitted in support of a criminal complaint charging that, beginning in or about June 2011 and continuing through the present, at Miami-Dade County, in the Southern District of Florida and elsewhere, MANUEL LAZARO MAROÑO, JORGE LUIS FORTE, and RICHARD F. CANDIA, did knowingly and willfully combine, conspire, confederate, and agree with each other to obstruct, delay, and affect commerce and the movement of articles and commodities in commerce, by means of extortion, as the terms “commerce” and “extortion” are defined in Title 18, United States Code, Sections 1951(b)(2) and (b)(3), in that the defendants did plan to obtain United States currency and other property not due to the defendants, from another, with his consent under color of official right, to wit, the defendants did plan to obtain bribes/kickbacks in exchange for official acts of MAROÑO that benefited an undercover FBI business company, all in violation of Title 18, United States Code, Section 1951(a).

SCOPE OF AFFIDAVIT AND BASIS OF INFORMATION

3. Since this Affidavit is being submitted for the limited purpose of establishing probable cause in support of a criminal complaint, I have not included each and every fact known to me concerning this investigation. I have set forth only the facts that I believe are necessary to establish the probable cause for the issuance of a complaint.

4. I have personally participated in the investigation, and as a result of this personal participation, as well as information provided by other FBI agents and law enforcement personnel, a review of certain public records, a review of documents received pursuant to grand jury subpoena, a review of recordings of conversations and meetings that occurred between a confidential human source, FBI undercover employees, and MAROÑO, FORTE, and CANDIA, discussions and interviews with the same confidential human source, a review of toll records and other telephone data received pursuant to judicially authorized pen registers and trap and trace devices, a review of judicially authorized Title III wire intercepts of MAROÑO's and FORTE's telephones, and matters that I have personally observed or have been reported to me by other law enforcement agents, I am familiar with the information submitted in this Affidavit.

PROBABLE CAUSE

Explanation of Fraudulent Grant Scheme

8. This is an undercover operation in which undercover FBI employees (hereinafter UCEs) proposed the misappropriation of federal grant monies to willing and predisposed individuals, including the defendants, in exchange for kickbacks and bribery payments, and other consideration. The UCEs involved with this investigation purported to be the owners and operators of an undercover, Chicago-based, not-for-profit company, (hereinafter "UC company"), which supposedly assisted municipalities in obtaining and administering federal grants. For purposes of this investigation, the FBI created a fictitious federal grant available through AmeriCorps, an actual federal government program associated with the U.S. Department of Commerce which addresses local community needs.

9. The fictitious grant involved in this investigation purported to be available from AmeriCorps, but only upon the official request of local municipalities. The UCEs, as principals of UC company, were represented to the defendants to have an inside contact at AmeriCorps who would assist in obtaining approval for grants and enable the UCEs to administer monies on behalf of municipalities. The represented illegal aspects of the proposed UC company deal involved both how it would obtain grants and what it intended to do with the federal monies awarded. As proposed, the fraudulent scheme would have willing public officials obtain the needed municipal approvals for the grant money. But, instead of using the funds to benefit local communities, the substantial majority of the AmeriCorps monies were to be divided up between the principals of UC company and the public officials and others who secured needed approvals, all for their personal gain.

10. The fictitious grant scheme offered to the defendants would come in two stages: “phase one” was to be a smaller, initial assessment grant in order to determine whether a larger, substantial grant would be awarded; “phase two,” the larger grant, would purport to substantively address the community problems raised in the grant application. As a prerequisite the municipality had to pass a resolution or ordinance giving UC company permission to apply for the assessment grant on behalf of the municipality. Upon AmeriCorps' approval of the assessment grant, no federal funds would be disbursed directly to the municipality. Instead, as the named administrator of the grant, UC company would pretend to receive the monies and notify the defendants. The assessment grant was to be administered illegally by UC company in that no actual research or assessment would ever be completed; however, a generic, boilerplate study would be produced.

11. To successfully carry out the fraud, the UCEs would tell the defendants the grant scheme was essentially a mechanism to enrich the participants. In addition, to further the fraud scheme, the UCEs explained that the defendants would have to participate in audit or survey calls purportedly conducted by AmeriCorps, but in reality conducted by another undercover FBI employee. On these calls, MAROÑO would be asked about the progress of UC company's employees, their work product, and their professionalism, all to assess the effectiveness of the federal grant money paid by AmeriCorps. For the scheme to succeed, MAROÑO would be required to mislead and lie during the audit calls when answering these questions.

12. In exchange for their involvement and for MAROÑO's official acts necessary for the scheme's success, MAROÑO, FORTE and CANDIA would receive cash payments and other things of value.

Background of Investigation

I. Introduction of CANDIA and MAROÑO

13. On or about May 26, 2011, a reliable confidential human source (“CHS”) informed the FBI that a certain South Florida lobbyist might be able to introduce the UCEs to local politicians the lobbyist believed would be receptive to the fraudulent grant scheme.¹ That lobbyist, later identified as CANDIA, was believed to have contacts with public officials willing to accept bribery and kickback payments for assisting with the municipal approvals needed to obtain the federal grant monies. Through the CHS, two UCEs were introduced to CANDIA.

14. During a series of consensually recorded meetings, the UCEs explained the fictitious grant scheme to CANDIA. Specifically, on September 12, 2011, UCE 1, posing as a principal of UC company, explained to CANDIA that “the play here is for the money, is for us to get the money and be able to use the money, you know, and just make money.”² UCE 1 also explained that although a participating municipality would technically get an economic development study, it would be “generic” or “boilerplate.” Because of that, UCE 1 explained the scheme required public officials “in you know, on the team, who understands, what, what’s going on here so that um, in the middle of it all, that they don’t decide to pull up. You know, I can't have that." UCE 1 also explained that "we'll take care of anybody that needs to be taken care of in, you know, whatever form or fashion," and UCE 1 was "willing [to] share whatever profits I get with whomever, including any kind of politicians, . . . who's looking for you know, for something to help me grease it through to make sure that, there's no RFP or anything"

² In this affidavit, I have not discussed every meeting or telephone call between the UCEs, CHS and TARGET SUBJECTS. In addition, I have not included each and every word that was spoken during the recorded calls and meetings. Further, quoted sections of the recordings are based on the FBI’s preliminary analysis of the recordings and are not final transcripts. To the extent a quoted conversation includes the term “U1,” that indicates unintelligible. “OV” indicates that the speakers’ voices were overlapping. The voice identification of the various participants in the recorded meets and conversations is based on the following: (1) information provided by the CHS and UCEs; (2) my review of the video portions of these recordings where the speaker is visible and my familiarity with the voices gained from that review; and (3) the content of the recordings. Finally, throughout this Affidavit, I have offered my interpretations of certain recorded conversations. My interpretations of these conversations is based on my knowledge of the investigation to date, including, but not limited to, conversations with CHS and the UCEs, and my review of the multiple recorded conversations and meets obtained during this investigation. My understanding is also based on conversations with other agents involved in this investigation and my training and experience in public corruption investigations.

15. During these same meetings, CANDIA indicated that MAROÑO might be amenable to the scheme. For example, during a consensually recorded conversation on August 5, 2011, CANDIA said he was "eighty percent" sure that MAROÑO would participate. During another consensually recorded conversation on September 23, 2011, CANDIA added that "[MAROÑO]'s not gonna be shy, shy to ask for shit. I mean there will be no end."

16. Following these meetings, CANDIA arranged for UCE 2 and the CHS to meet with MAROÑO. UCE 2 was posing as an employee of UC company, and an associate of UCE 1. The meeting occurred on November 29, 2011, and was consensually recorded. During the meeting, UCE 2 briefly discussed the grant scheme. MAROÑO agreed to pass the necessary Sweetwater resolution.

17. On December 6, 2011, MAROÑO caused the City of Sweetwater to pass a resolution authorizing UC company to apply for the grant. The resolution was signed by MAROÑO as Mayor of Sweetwater. A copy of the resolution was provided to the UCEs.

II. Introduction of FORTE and Discussion of Potential Expansion of the Scheme

18. On March 2, 2012, MAROÑO, CANDIA, and the UCEs spoke at a hotel in Coral Gables, Florida, before a dinner meeting where they were to be joined by FORTE later that evening. This meeting was consensually recorded. During the meeting, MAROÑO asked if Sweetwater had been awarded the assessment grant. The UCEs indicated they had received the initial assessment grant. UCE 1 explained they had been awarded $200,000 for the assessment, and a potential future $1.2 million for the substantive community development grant. MAROÑO stated, "great, glad to hear."

19. MAROÑO explained FORTE was his "right hand man."³ MAROÑO further explained FORTE was "coming back to the private sector with me, 'cause there's certain things that I can't do. . . . There's some limitation as to what I can do." MAROÑO went further and explained FORTE is "gonna, like, anything that has to do with my city, I can't. I don't even, I, I won't even have that conversation, but he can."

20. The UCEs also explained to MAROÑO that as part of a "compliance checklist," someone from AmeriCorps would "probably be reaching out to you" to make sure the program was "on track." UCE 2 explained, "they ask their 10 or 12 questions and, you know, they, they stick that in a file for the next 6 to 8 weeks and they'll come back possibly again" MAROÑO responded, "yeah, it's not a problem."

21. MAROÑO, CANDIA, and the UCEs discussed taking the grant scheme to other municipalities. In discussing this, CANDIA indicated they needed to identify "strong" mayors for the scheme. UCE 2 commented "we certainly don't need somebody going back to the Department of Commerce or AmeriCorps saying, hey, you know, this report sucks." MAROÑO responded, "right . . . I understand." MAROÑO suggested various possible municipalities to target and ruled out others, and then said "we need to keep it under the radar . . . don't raise a lot of red flags."

22. During the same meeting, UCE 2 explained that although they would provide a report, it would be "very generic, very vague . . . cut and paste, exactly, you got it?" MAROÑO responded, "That's cool. Hey, I'm good." Later in the meeting, UCE 1 asked "is there anything that we could do for you as a result of what you did for us?" MAROÑO responded, "I, I, you could talk to [FORTE] about that later. . . . I will not have that conversation."

³ In a previous consensually recorded meeting, CANDIA had explained that FORTE was MAROÑO's "front, where he, where he needs a front. [FORTE] is [MAROÑO's] filter, where he needs a filter."

23. Later, FORTE joined MAROÑO, CANDIA, and the UCEs for dinner. MAROÑO advised FORTE he "found out that the Sweetwater, the first, and the first one is $200,000." UCE 2 then explained again there would be a survey call. UCE 2 emphasized "everything's gotta be positive otherwise it's gonna raise it to the next level they'll want to take. So, as long as everything comes in positive, they take that piece of paper, they put it in the file." UCE 2 also explained there would likely be another survey to make sure the city "was satisfied . . . and then that's when they would determine whether the next million would be distributed out." FORTE responded, "OK."

24. During the meeting, the discussion turned to payment for MAROÑO and FORTE's future referrals of potential municipalities that they indicated would potentially participate in a similar scheme. Ultimately, the UCEs and FORTE negotiated an agreement wherein FORTE and MAROÑO would receive twelve percent (12%) of monies disbursed for the first ten cities that participated in a similar fraudulent grant scheme followed by an increase to twenty-five percent (25%) for any additional cities. During the negotiations, FORTE discussed the different types of benefits other public officials may request, including tickets for entertainment or sporting events. FORTE said it would be beneficial to all to "take care of our friends who are cooperating."

25. Later, MAROÑO explained that FORTE spoke for him. More specifically, MAROÑO stated, "Whatever he, whatever he says, whenever you guys talk, it's, it's like talking to me." FORTE echoed, "In Miami-Dade County, you want something from him, you don't call him, you call me. . . . It's just the way it works." Later, MAROÑO again reiterated, FORTE "is me, . . . if you talk to [FORTE], you talk to me."

26. At one point in the meeting, MAROÑO excused himself from the table. Shortly thereafter, FORTE raised the issue of payment for the Sweetwater grant. Specifically, FORTE stated, "With the city [Sweetwater], and I definitely don't want him be involved in that part of the conversation, . . . uhm, what, ah, what do you wanna do with that one? How do you wanna - - ?" After UCE 1 asked how FORTE would like to handle the payment, FORTE responded, "Well, I like to do, to do something better that's gonna help me kickstart it." FORTE then negotiated a payment of $20,000 for the Sweetwater scheme that would be divided into three separate payments spread out over several months. It was agreed that the UCEs would make the installment payments in cash. The meeting ended soon thereafter.⁴

The Pay-Offs to MAROÑO and FORTE Begin

I. The First "Phase One" Sweetwater Payment

27. On March 15, 2012, the CHS and UCE 2 participated in a consensually recorded meeting with FORTE at a restaurant in Miami Beach, Florida. Following dinner, UCE 2 provided FORTE with an envelope containing $6,600 in United States currency, which was prearranged as the first of three installment payments to MAROÑO and FORTE for MAROÑO's official action in obtaining the City of Sweetwater grant approval resolution for the UC company. As UCE 2 made the pay-off, he explained, "that's $6,600, that is ten percent of the first disbursement." UCE 2 then asked how they wanted to do the payments because the $20,000 total pay-off would not split evenly three ways. FORTE responded, "It doesn't matter to us" and suggested they should just do what was easier for the UCEs.

⁴ During the course of this meeting, MAROÑO stated that he was unwilling to do anything illegal.

28. After making the pay-off, UCE 2 provided FORTE with a letter UCE 2 described as an "acknowledgement or recommendation letter" MAROÑO needed to sign. UCE 2 had previously explained the letter would be submitted to AmeriCorps in connection with the grant scheme. FORTE agreed to have MAROÑO sign the letter and provide it to the UCEs.

29. On March 19, 2012, UCE 1 made a consensually recorded call to MAROÑO. UCE 1 advised MAROÑO he had heard that FORTE and UCE 2 had a good meeting, referring to the meeting on March 15, 2012, where UCE 2 paid FORTE $6,600 in United States currency. MAROÑO responded, "they sure did, they sure did." MAROÑO then asked, "You got that document? We should have it faxed today?" I believe that MAROÑO was asking the UCEs if they had received the official City of Sweetwater letter, which MAROÑO had signed so that the UCEs could send the correspondence from the city to AmeriCorps. The UCE confirmed receipt of the letter and thanked MAROÑO for his help. Subsequently, UCE 1 received the original signed letter from MAROÑO via U.S. mail.

II. The Second Sweetwater "Phase One" Payment

30. On April 17, 2012, UCE 1 and UCE 2 participated in a consensually recorded meeting with FORTE at a restaurant located in Sweetwater, Florida. During the meeting, UCE 2 asked FORTE how he wanted to receive the second payment of $6,600 for the passing of the Sweetwater resolution. FORTE responded, "we could do it today," and asked if the UCEs had it in an envelope. UCE 2 then handed FORTE an envelope containing $6,600 in United States currency, which FORTE placed in his pants pocket. FORTE then stated, "We're good," and asked, "What's the amount?" UCE 2 confirmed it was $6,600. The UCEs asked FORTE if he was good with the cash payments. FORTE responded, "you kidding me?" FORTE stated, "I know how to calculate taxes, that's always great." FORTE added, "it always gives us a little play money."

31. On April 19, 2012, UCE 1 and UCE 2 accompanied MAROÑO and FORTE to a Miami Heat basketball game in Miami, Florida. Little of the fraudulent grant scheme was discussed. But, at one point during the evening, UCE 1 asked MAROÑO if he had received the second Sweetwater payment and if MAROÑO was "good with it?" MAROÑO nodded affirmatively and said that everything was satisfactory.

MAROÑO Answers the First Survey Call

32. On May 7, 2012, UCE 1 placed a telephone call to MAROÑO to alert MAROÑO that a representative of AmeriCorps would be calling him to conduct a survey about work the UC company was supposedly doing in the City of Sweetwater. UCE 1 told MAROÑO that he needed to make UC company look good. MAROÑO agreed and said he would call UCE 1 when the survey was completed. This conversation was not recorded due to an equipment malfunction.

33. On May 10, 2012, an undercover FBI employee ("UCE 3"), posing as an auditor from the AmeriCorps program, placed a consensually recorded call to MAROÑO. During the call, MAROÑO answered a series of questions in which he told UCE 3 the federal grant funds were being put to good and constructive use for the public benefit, though he then and there well knew that no such official work was taking place:

UCE 3: Ah, the first question will be: How do you find [UC company] to be responsive or unresponsive to your community needs during the assessment phase of the feasibility study?

MAROÑO: Ah, responsive.

UCE 3: You found them responsive?

MAROÑO: Yes, ma'am.

UCE 3: OK. Has [UC company] maintained consistent communication with you about the progress of the feasibility study including the specific community development needs in your municipality?

MAROÑO: Yes, ma'am.

UCE 3: Okay, have you communicated with a representative of [UC company] about the specific needs of your community?

MAROÑO: Ummm.

UCE 3: Daily, weekly, monthly?

MAROÑO: Sometimes every week, ah, once a week, um, minimal, I've spoken to them two times, twice a month, but usually every week, I'd say, we talk.

UCE 3: Okay perfect. Ah, has [UC company] provided on-the-ground personnel to assist you, your municipality, bill department, review municipal records, or interview municipal personnel?

MAROÑO: Yes.

UCE 3: Okay. How would you rate the efficiency of work of [UC company]'s assessment personnel? Highly efficient, efficient, or inefficient?

MAROÑO: Um, thus far, highly efficient.

UCE 3: Okay. What if any comments have you received from your municipal personnel about the professionalism, diligence, cautiousness, of [UC company]'s assessment personnel?

MAROÑO: They're very happy to be dealing with a professional company, um, obtaining reports that we really want to have, so, so they're, they're very happy, they've been, um, very responsive to them, and they've been very professional and easy to work with.

UCE 3: Excellent. Okay. Has your municipality provided adequate work space and support to [UC company]'s assessment personnel?

MAROÑO: Yes, ma'am.

UCE 3: What specific economic and community development projects are being studied for your municipality by [UC company]'s assessment personnel?

MAROÑO: What economic development? Um, we're a small city, and, and, um, we really need, ah, to understand the community's needs, and they're really helping us with understanding the economic development and job growth. We really need to get those jobs.

UCE 3: And they're focusing on the job environment?

MAROÑO: Yes.

UCE 3: Okay. How satisfied are you about the usefulness of the proposed project being studied? Very satisfied, satisfied, or unsatisfied?

MAROÑO: Very satisfied.

UCE 3: Are the proposed the community development project feasibility study [sic] an efficient and worthwhile use of taxpayer funds?

MAROÑO: Absolutely...needed. It's very needed for the community and for the country. It's very needed.

UCE 3: Okay. Ah, is there anything that you would like to add, ah, or let us know about [UC company]?

MAROÑO: Mmm, they're very, very professional, very efficient, and, um, I'm very happy to be working with a professional company of that standard.

UCE 3: Okay, perfect, well, sir, that will be it. Thank you so much for your time and have a good day.

MAROÑO: Thank you, thank you, bye-bye.

UCE 3: Bye.

34. On May 10, 2012, immediately after the purported AmeriCorps' survey call, MAROÑO called FORTE. During the call, MAROÑO advised FORTE about the nature of the survey call and that the call had gone well.⁵

35. On May 14, 2012, UCE 1 placed a recorded telephone call to MAROÑO and immediately asked about the AmeriCorps survey call: "How's the, how did that survey go?" MAROÑO responded, "Yo, it went fantastic, it went very well, it was a couple of questions, it was fine." UCE 1 asked, "Yeah, you made [the UCE company] look good, did ya?" MAROÑO said, "Yes sir, you guys were, were awesome up there. The best." After discussing the fact that some of the questions concerned economic development, UCE 1 wanted confirmation MAROÑO had "handled most of the questions like we needed them handled." MAROÑO reassured UCE 1, "Yeah, they were, they were simple, easy, and they were nonchalant. They were, they were good." UCE 1 then informed MAROÑO he was hearing a rumor there may be a follow-up letter that AmeriCorps will send to MAROÑO asking him to certify the results of the survey, to which MAROÑO responded, "No problem. It'll come to me, that's not a problem."

36. On May 24, 2012, CANDIA received and accepted a $2,500 pay-off for his help in the successful Sweetwater grant scheme. The pay-off was made in United States currency handed directly to CANDIA.

The Potential Referral Business

37. During this same time frame, as discussed at the March 2, 2012 meeting, MAROÑO and FORTE identified various other public officials they indicated might participate in the same type of grant scheme within their respective municipalities. MAROÑO and FORTE arranged meetings between the UCEs and these various public officials and were also present at these meetings.

38. For example, on or about April 18, 2012, FORTE and MAROÑO introduced the UCEs to Public Official A as a potential participant in the scheme. Public Official A did not participate in the scheme.

39. Nevertheless, FORTE and MAROÑO were paid for the introduction. Specifically, on or about April 18, 2012, the UCEs made a cash payment of $5,000 to MAROÑO and FORTE inside an automobile. The UCEs, who were seated in the rear of the vehicle, placed the envelope of cash on the center console between the driver's seat and the front passenger seat. FORTE, who was in the front passenger seat, took the envelope of cash. MAROÑO was driving the vehicle.

40. On May 23, 2012, MAROÑO and FORTE facilitated the introduction of the UCEs to Public Official B. Like Public Official A, Public Official B did not participate in the scheme. Following the meeting with Public Official B, FORTE and the UCEs met at a country club in Miami. After the meeting, FORTE drove the UCEs back to their hotel where UCE 2 gave FORTE a payment of $5,000 in United States currency for his and MAROÑO's assistance in setting up the meeting.

41. After the payment, FORTE called MAROÑO. During that call, FORTE answered, "No. I mean, 'cause right now, he [UCE 2] just left my car and he gave it to me now and obviously you were right" I believe the reference to FORTE getting "it" concerns the fact that the UCE 2 had just paid the finder's fee for the referral.

42. On June 20, 2012, FORTE told MAROÑO during a telephone conversation the UCEs wanted to renegotiate the finder's fee arrangement. MAROÑO was upset the UCEs wanted to renegotiate the deal. MAROÑO complained he and FORTE were making less money through the scheme than the UCEs, "[w]hen they're, when they're getting pay-outs for not doing a fucking thing but copying and pasting, realistically." Later in the call, MAROÑO and FORTE discussed an upcoming Florida League of Cities event where MAROÑO would use his new position as President to introduce the UCEs to other public officials. The call ended with FORTE indicating he would speak with the UCEs regarding their payments.

43. Later in June, FORTE and MAROÑO facilitated meetings between the UCEs and two other public officials. Again, these public officials did not participate in the scheme. Nevertheless, on July 2, 2012, UCE 2 paid $10,000 in United States currency to FORTE as a fee for introducing both UCEs to these public officials.

44. During this same meeting, FORTE asked about the money still owed to MAROÑO and FORTE for phase one of the Sweetwater deal. UCE 2 explained the third disbursement of funds for the Sweetwater grant had not yet been received or approved.

45. That same day, after the above described meeting, FORTE called MAROÑO and engaged in the following conversation:

FORTE: Yeah...All good

MAROÑO: All good, okay...cool.

FORTE: Five, Five... each

MAROÑO: Okay, its less than we thought but that's fine

FORTE: Yeah, but the rest....will probably be uhh at the end of July

MAROÑO: Okay, thats fine

FORTE: Yes, yes, all good, all good [OV]

MAROÑO: I will call you when I head that way.

FORTE: Okay, bye.

I believe that during this call, when FORTE referred to "five, five . . . each" he was referring to $5,000 each for MAROÑO and FORTE and that the $10,000 pay-off was to be evenly split between MAROÑO and FORTE.

46. On July 2, 2012, CANDIA received and accepted a $2,500 pay-off for his help in the successful Sweetwater grant scheme. The pay-off was made in United States currency handed directly to CANDIA.

The Third Payment for Phase One of the Sweetwater Deal

47. On August 6, 2012, FORTE traveled to Chicago, Illinois, to meet with UCE 1 and UCE 2 for the purpose of collecting the final pay-off of $6,800 for Sweetwater deal. All conversations were consensually recorded. After dining at a restaurant and showing FORTE around Chicago, the UCEs drove him to an area around the airport where UCE 2 paid FORTE $6,800 in cash from an envelope. After giving the cash to FORTE, UCE 1 stated, "Don't lose it on us. I don't want Manny to be pissed at us." FORTE responded, "That would be my fault."

48. On August 22, 2012, the UCEs met with MAROÑO, at a hotel in Hollywood, Florida. During this meeting, the following conversation took place in reference to the $6,800 pay-off on August 6, 2012, to FORTE in Chicago, Illinois.

UCE 1: Jorge came to Chicago, he brought you back a souvenir. You good?

MAROÑO: What he bring me back?

UCE 1: Huh?

MAROÑO: He brought me something back?

UCE 1: He brought you back..

MAROÑO: What did he bring me back? I don't remember.

UCE 1: Well, we made the last installment payment. He got your cut.

MAROÑO: Oh yeah, souvenir.

UCE 1: Yeah that's your souvenir.

The Potential Referral Business

49. In late August 2012, a Florida League of Cities event was held in Hollywood, Florida. At the suggestion of CANDIA, FORTE and MAROÑO, the UCEs attended the event. While at the event, FORTE, CANDIA and MAROÑO capitalized on MAROÑO's position as president of the board of directors by introducing several public officials to the UCEs with the claimed purpose of recruiting public officials to take part in a similar grant scheme within their respective municipalities.

50. In preparation for the event, on August 23, 2012, the UCEs, FORTE, CANDIA, the CHS and MAROÑO met. This meeting was consensually recorded. During the meeting, MAROÑO discussed his strategy for identifying other politicians he claimed may be willing to participate in the grant scheme. MAROÑO also discussed how these politicians should properly answer the audit or survey call: Referring to the May 10, 2012, audit call discussed above, MAROÑO stated:

I had no problems whatsoever . . . But I didn't get briefed on what the questions were going to be, but I knew what I needed to answer. Cuz identifying the person and recognizing that he's going to have that ability to, you know, did they come and meet with you? Yeah yeah, we had a great time, did you, yeah, yeah, yeah, we, you answered questions knowing that you're fucking lying, but you gotta be able to have that charisma, to be able to pull it off, to bullshit her.

51. In the days that followed, the UCEs were introduced to several public officials that CANDIA, MAROÑO, and FORTE had identified as potential participants in the scheme. Nevertheless, none of these officials participated in the scheme.

FORTE Reinitiates Contact and Phase Two Begins

52. In early 2013, FORTE attempted to contact UCE 2 by telephone. More specifically, UCE 2's telephone showed that on January 30, 2013 and February 1, 2013, the telephone used by FORTE placed calls to UCE 2's telephone number. These calls went unanswered by UCE 2.

53. On February 6, 2013, UCE 2 placed a consensually recorded telephone call to FORTE. At the beginning of the call, FORTE stated, "I been trying, ah, I been trying to chase you down man." FORTE went on to explain, "I been trying for a while, I've been wanting to, to catch up with you guys"

54. Later in the conversation, FORTE asked, "Where are we looking with the original process?" The following conversation ensued:

UCE 2: The original one for . . .

FORTE: Yeah, The first one we ever did .

UCE 2: Umm, you mean like the extension on that one, like phase two of that?

FORTE: Yeah, exactly.

UCE 2 then went on to explain that "phase two" of the grant, the larger sum of money, could be delayed due to budget problems. Later in the conversation, FORTE said "if you could find a way to speed [the original one] up, that would be fantastic." During this same call, UCE 2 and FORTE discussed the UCEs' potential trip to Florida during the last week of February. With regard to the above, I believe when FORTE said the "original one" he was referring to the Sweetwater deal, and more specifically phase two of the Sweetwater deal. Sweetwater was the first and only deal done with MAROÑO and it was the only one that had moved into "phase two."

55. On February, 23, 2013, UCE 2 placed a consensually recorded call to FORTE to discuss the potential schedule for the upcoming trip. During the same call, FORTE asked, "any word on the second phase of Sweetwater?" UCE 2 indicated that it was looking good and that "it was coming." FORTE responded, "I hope so."

The Second Survey Call to MAROÑO and Phase Two Grant Payments

56. On February 26, 2013, the UCE's met with FORTE at a restaurant in North Bay Village, Florida. The meeting was consensually recorded. During this meeting, the phase two portion of the Sweetwater grant was discussed as well as ways to structure the payments to FORTE and MAROÑO. In prior meetings, the UCE's had made it known to FORTE that phase two would be a $1.2 million dollar grant provided to UC company. FORTE and MAROÑO had previously negotiated ten percent of the phase two grant for their own benefit. Pursuant to this agreement, MAROÑO and FORTE were to receive a total of $120,000 at a rate of $10,000 monthly for a period of twelve (12) months. During the February 26, 2013 meeting, the UCEs advised FORTE that MAROÑO would have to handle another telephone call from AmeriCorps before the phase two grant would be distributed.

57. On March 15, 2013, UCE 3, posing as an auditor from AmeriCorps, called MAROÑO. MAROÑO answered a series of questions in which he told UCE 3 that the federal grant funds were being put to good and constructive use for the public benefit, though he then and there well knew that no such official work was taking place:

MAROÑO: Hello?

UCE: Yes, hi, good morning, may I speak to Mr. Manny MAROÑO?

MAROÑO: Speaking.

UCE: Yes, good morning, my name [UCE 3] and I'm with AmeriCorps. Do you have a few minutes that I can ask you a few questions?

MAROÑO: Yes ma'am absolutely.

UCE: Are you available now sir?

MAROÑO: Yup, yup yup.

UCE: Ok, thank you, I appreciate it. I know it's, uh, kind of early, so, if you haven't had your coffee.

MAROÑO: No problem.

UCE: That, that's no problem. It'll be quick.

MAROÑO: (laughter)

UCE: (laughter)

MAROÑO: I had some of it already; I had one, one cup, so we're good.

UCE: Ok sir, uh, the first question I need you to answer for me is: Did representatives of [UC company] meet with you to specifically discuss the current state of underemployment in your city?

MAROÑO: Yes ma'am.

UCE: Ok. Has [UC company] provided a written report detailing the current state of the underemployment for the City of Sweetwater?

MAROÑO: Yes Ma'am.

UCE: Do you remember how long ago was that?

MAROÑO: (unintelligible)

UCE: It doesn't have to be exact, just an approximate.

MAROÑO: Within in the past, in don't know, few months, months, two months, three weeks. I, I.

UCE: Like two months ago?

MAROÑO: I mean, I don't know, I don't really, I really couldn't think, only if I had to. I mean I could look it up and try to find out but it was all. I can't think what.

UCE: Yeah, that's no problem, I just need an approximate.

MAROÑO: I know I have it.

UCE: Ok

MAROÑO: Yeah.

UCE: Uh, did the report meet the expectations of you and your administration?

MAROÑO: Yes, it was very helpful.

UCE: Ok great. Was the information provided to your city on schedule?

MAROÑO: Yes.

UCE: Ok. Was it clearly and professional written?

MAROÑO: Yes.

UCE: Were you verbally briefed as well as uh provided a written report?

MAROÑO: Yes.

UCE: Do you remember who, who briefed you?

MAROÑO: [UCE 2]

UCE: [UCE 2], ok thank you so much. Has [UC company] provided a written report of the best practices as it relates to combating underemployment in your city?

MAROÑO: Yes.

UCE: Ok. Will you continue to endorse [UC company] as they fulfill their commitment to further research opportunities for economic development in the City of Sweetwater as detailed in the feasibility study?

MAROÑO: Absolutely, yes.

UCE: Perfect, great, that will be all Mr. MAROÑO. Thank you so much, I appreciate you, uh, giving me.

MAROÑO: Thank you.

UCE: You have a great day sir.

MAROÑO: Thank you, you too. Bye bye.

UCE: Bye bye.

58. To date, MAROÑO has never been provided with any written report from the UCEs, despite his statement that he had received a “written report detailing the current state of the underemployment for the City of Sweetwater.” Similarly, the UCEs have not “verbally briefed” MAROÑO on any such report. Likewise, MAROÑO has never been provided with a “written report of the best practices as it relates to combating underemployment in” Sweetwater.

59. On the same day, March 15, 2013, UCE 2 received a text message from FORTE’s cellular telephone stating, “It was a great call this morning!” At approximately 4:06 p.m. the same day, UCE 2 called FORTE to discuss the audit survey call. FORTE advised UCE 2 that MAROÑO handled the call this morning and it was a positive conversation.

I. The First Phase Two Grant Pay-Off

60. On March 25, 2013, the UCEs met with FORTE and MAROÑO for dinner at a restaurant in Coral Gables, Florida, for the purpose of receiving the first phase two payment of $10,000 for the “Sweetwater deal.” The meeting was consensually recorded with audio and video. During the meeting, UCE 1 alluded to the fact that the bribe payment was concealed in a notebook on the table. While in a conversation about NBA basketball, UCE 1 jokingly suggested by tapping on the notebook that he would bet the contents in the notebook that the Chicago Bulls would beat the Miami Heat in an upcoming game.

61. After the meal, the UCEs followed FORTE outside the restaurant to his vehicle to make the cash pay-off to FORTE. After the pay-off was made, UCE 2 asked FORTE if the UCEs needed to start cutting a check next time or splitting the money fifty-fifty as previously discussed. FORTE indicated, “We could do it either way. Whatever which way you guys want.”

62. On April 23, 2013, UCE 1 placed a phone call from Chicago, Illinois, to MAROÑO in Miami-Dade County.⁶ During that telephone call, UCE 1 inquired about the recent payment to FORTE:

UCE 1: . . . Hey listen, and, I know you're busy but let me, uh, last time we got to talk, and I didn't get the chance. Are you good with the package I gave Jorge when we had dinner last time? I just want to make sure you're happy.

MAROÑO: Ummm. I don't know what you're talking about.

UCE1: Ok, alright, well, you know, I just wanted to make that Jorge got what he needed.

MAROÑO: I guess, Jorge seemed fine, he seemed happy, he seemed, the dinner was fine.

UCE 1: Perfect.

MAROÑO: Alright.

The conversation then ended with small talk about meeting up when the UCEs returned to Miami, Florida.

63. The next day, on April 24, 2013, UCE 2 called FORTE. During that consensually recorded telephone call, the following was discussed:

UCE 2: Hey, let me ask you, umm, you know [UCE 1] was trying when he was talking with [MAROÑO], umm, yesterday, he was, he was trying, you know, you know how he kinda got a little bit of a code worked out that, he was happy with the package that we had brought you and stuff like that and and I think you know Manny said something like, he has no idea what he was talking about or something like that.

FORTE: Well, because he is not going to acknowledge anything of that sort on the phone...

UCE 2: Yeah, no, that, you know that's what I was trying to tell him. I go, Dude, he's getting the money, don't worry about it, umm, you know, he, he, you know, and, so, that's what I was trying to explain to him and calm his fucking nerves. You know, you know how he is, you know how he is.

⁶ I therefore believe based on my training and experience that this telephone call resulted in an interstate wire signal. It should be noted that many of the calls between the UCEs and the defendants were made when the UCEs were outside of Florida. Both UCEs reside outside of Florida. The defendants, as part of the undercover operation, believe that both UCEs reside in Chicago, Illinois.

FORTE: Yeah, but [UCE 1] needs to chill out. If there's a problem, the same way that when there's a problem I hear from [UCE 1], I'm sure that [UCE 1] would, would hear if there's a problem.

Based on the above conversation, I believe that MAROÑO's response to the question regarding whether he received the package ("I don't know what you are talking about") was intended to protect MAROÑO from making incriminating statements on the phone with the UCE. I believe this, in part, based on FORTE's statement that MAROÑO "is not going to acknowledge anything of that sort on the phone."

64. On April 25, 2013, the CHS placed a consensually recorded telephone call to CANDIA. During that call, CANDIA said he had spoken with FORTE. According to CANDIA, FORTE had complained that the UCEs were not being discreet enough in their dealings with MAROÑO:

CANDIA: They give whatever to [FORTE], who takes it to his friend..but the [UCEs] are calling his friend directly and he doesn't like talking about that stuff on the phone, or texting, or anything like that, and [FORTE] wanted to make sure they try not to do that anymore.

CHS: [UCEs] must have spoken. I guess it was [MAROÑO] then, right?

CANDIA: Yeah, directly and he doesn't like doing that stuff on his phone, or no text, or anything like that.

During the above call, I believe that CANDIA's statement "he doesn't like doing that stuff on his phone," is a reference to the fact that MAROÑO does not like talking to the UCEs about the pay-offs over the phone. I also believe that CANDIA's statement that "[t]hey give whatever to [FORTE], who takes it to his friend," is a reference to the fact that the Sweetwater grant pay-offs are being split with MAROÑO.

II. The Second Phase Two Pay-Off

65. On May 14, 2013, the UCEs met with FORTE for dinner at a restaurant in Miami, Florida. After dinner, the UCEs gave FORTE a $10,000 pay-off for MAROÑO and FORTE as part of the second phase of the Sweetwater Deal. The pay-off was made in the form a check made payable to Realm Consultants. Bank records indicate that the check was deposited on the next day, May 15, 2013.

CONCLUSION

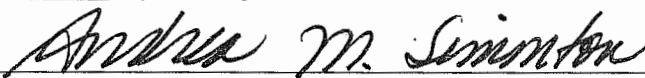

66 Based on the foregoing, your affiant respectfully submits that there is probable cause to believe that beginning in or about June 2011 and continuing through the present, at Miami-Dade County, in the Southern District of Florida and elsewhere, MANUEL LAZARO MAROÑO, JORGE LUIS FORTE, and RICHARD F. CANDIA did knowingly and willfully combine, conspire, confederate, and agree with each other and others known and unknown to obstruct, delay, and affect commerce and the movement of articles and commodities in commerce, by means of extortion, as the terms “commerce” and “extortion” are defined in Title 18, United States Code, Sections 1951(b)(2) and (b)(3), in that the defendants did plan to obtain United States currency and other property not due to the defendants, from another, with his consent, under color of official right, in violation of Title 18, United States Code, Section 1951(a).

FURTHER AFFIANT SAYETH NAUGHT.
