CONFERENCE DETAILS

We are pleased to announce this important training opportunity for those working to combat the problem of domestic violence in North Carolina. During the program, participants will learn about state and federal domestic violence and firearms laws and how they can be used to assist in the investigation and prosecution of crimes of domestic violence. The conference will provide training for virtually every person involved in the domestic violence prevention, detection and prosecution arenas with the goal of unifying our response to domestic violence in the state of North Carolina. Whether you are a victim, law enforcement officer, probation officer, victim advocate, prosecutor, judge, or service provider, you don't want to miss this conference. See the attached tentative agenda for complete details on the training topics. (Note: We will submit to the N.C. State Bar for C.L.E. accreditation and the costs for these credits will be the responsibility of the bar member and payable at the conference. The North Carolina Justice Academy will be offering training credits for law enforcement.)

The registration fee for this training is only $100 (registration fees received after August 29, 2014 will be $150.00). Everyone must pay the registration fee. Scholarships are available to pay the cost of double occupancy lodging.
