BUFFALO MAN SENTENCED IN 31-GANG CASE

BUFFALO, N.Y.--U.S. Attorney William J. Hochul, Jr. announced today that Adrian Goudelock, 28, of Buffalo, New York, who was convicted of cocaine trafficking, was sentenced by U.S. District Judge Richard J. Arcara to 70 months in prison.

According to Assistant U.S. Attorney Michael L. McCabe, who handled the case, Goudelock was a member of the "31-Gang," which operated on Buffalo's east side. The defendant obtained cocaine from fellow 31-Gang member Glance Ross and then sold large quantities of crack cocaine in the Coit Street area near William and Fillmore in the city.

Glance Ross, who was convicted of cocaine trafficking and money laundering, was sentenced on November 2, 2011 to 139 months in prison.

The sentencing is the culmination of an investigation on the part of Special Agents of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, under the direction of Special Agent in Charge Christopher M. Piehota.
