About the Conference

Successful reentry reduces recidivism by helping individuals return from prison to productive, law abiding lives. This conference will support successful reentry by promoting community collaboration for improved training and employment outcomes for former prisoners. National and regional reentry experts will share solutions and answer questions for an audience of business and community leaders, state and federal prison and parole officials, social service resource providers, and faith-based prison ministers. Finally, in a workshop setting, experts in reentry networking will outline action items to create a community-wide reentry network in Southeast Texas.

Attendees will receive an email to confirm their successful registration.

Registration

This conference is specifically designed for business and community leaders, social service resource providers, faith-based prison ministers, and state and federal prison and parole officials. Business leaders will learn how helping re-entering persons benefits not only the community, but the business itself! There is no registration fee for this conference but space is limited.
