

FILED IN OPEN COURT
3.4.2020

UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT
MIDDLE DISTRICT OF FLORIDA
JACKSONVILLE DIVISION

CLERK, U.S. DISTRICT COURT
MIDDLE DISTRICT OF FLORIDA
JACKSONVILLE, FLORIDA

UNITED STATES OF AMERICA

v.

KENYAN SHONDRE SCOTT

Case No. 3:20-cr-40J-34JBT
Cts. 1-55: 26 U.S.C. § 7206(2)
Cts. 56-59: 26 U.S.C. § 7206(1)

INDICTMENT

The Grand Jury charges:

COUNTS ONE THROUGH FIFTY-FIVE

A. Introduction

At all times material to this Indictment, unless otherwise specified:

1. The defendant, KENYAN SHONDRE SCOTT, was a resident of Jacksonville, Duval County, Florida, and the owner and operator of Pro Resource Services, Inc., which also operated under the name Professional Resource Services, a business located in Jacksonville that offered tax return preparation services beginning in approximately 2009.
2. Pro Resource Services, Inc., was first registered with the Florida Department of State on or about August 2, 2010. Records of the Florida Department of State reflect that the defendant was the President of the company.

3. The Internal Revenue Service (“IRS”) is an agency of the United States Department of the Treasury with responsibility for the ascertainment, computation, assessment, and collection of revenue, including individual income taxes.

4. A Form 1040, U.S. Individual Income Tax Return, is an IRS form that is used to report an individual’s income, exemptions, deductions, credits, taxes, taxes paid, and other financial information and to determine the amount of taxes owed by the individual to the IRS or the refund due to the individual from the IRS. A Form 1040A is a shorter, more simplified version of a Form 1040 that certain individuals may use.

5. A Schedule A (Form 1040), Itemized Deductions, is an IRS form that is used to report itemized deductions from an individual’s adjusted gross income, which can reduce the individual’s tax liability.

6. A Schedule C (Form 1040), Profit or Loss from Business (Sole Proprietorship), is an IRS form that is used to report an individual’s income or loss from a business operated or a profession practiced as a sole proprietor.

7. A Form 3800, General Business Credit, is an IRS form that is used to claim certain miscellaneous credits, such as credits related to certain investments, credits related to the use or production of certain fuels or the use of alternative fuels, and credits related to certain employer-provided employee benefits, among many other types of credits. The General Business Credit is a non-refundable credit.

8. A Form 8863, Education Credits (American Opportunity and Lifetime Learning Credits), is an IRS form that is used to report qualified education expenses incurred by an individual to determine whether the individual is entitled to a tax credit and, if so, the amount of the credit. A Lifetime Learning Credit ("LLC") is a non-refundable education credit and an American Opportunity Credit ("AOC") is a refundable education credit.

9. A tax credit reduces an individual's income tax liability by the amount of the credit and may increase an individual's tax refund. If a tax credit is non-refundable, the amount of the credit may be used only to offset any tax owed. If a tax credit is refundable, the amount of the credit that is greater than the amount of tax owed is paid to the individual as a tax refund.

10. In preparing other individuals' income tax returns, the defendant knowingly reported false information to decrease the amount of the tax owed by the individuals to the IRS and to increase the amount of the tax refund received by the individuals from the IRS.

11. The defendant filed and caused to be filed with the IRS the tax returns of the other individuals that contained the false information.

12. The defendant's actions caused the IRS to issue refunds when tax would have been owed in the absence of the fraud and to issue larger refunds than otherwise would have been due in the absence of the fraud.

B. Charges

13. On or about the dates set forth as to each count below, in Duval County, in the Middle District of Florida, and elsewhere, the defendant, did willfully aid and assist in, and procure, counsel, and advise the preparation and presentation to the Internal Revenue Service of U.S. Individual Income Tax Returns, with accompanying schedules and forms, for the individuals identified by their initials and the tax years specified below, which were false and fraudulent as to material matters, in that the returns included the false and fraudulent statements specified below, which the defendant knew were false and fraudulent and which resulted in the individuals purportedly being entitled under the provisions of the Internal Revenue laws to claim certain deductions and credits, when, as the defendant knew, the individuals were not entitled to claim the deductions and credits, as follows:

KENYAN SHONDRE SCOTT,

| Count | Date Tax Return Prepared | Tax Year | Description of Documents and False and Fraudulent Statements                                                                                                                                                      |
|--------------|---------------------------------|-----------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| ONE   | March 20, 2014                  | 2013            | IRS Form 1040 and Form 8863 submitted on behalf of M.S., representing that M.S. had incurred at least $4,000 in education expenses and was entitled to an LLC of $1,500 and an AOC of $1,000                          |
| TWO   | February 2, 2015                | 2014            | IRS Form 1040, Schedule C, and Form 3800 submitted on behalf of M.S., representing that M.S. had a business loss of $4,127 and was entitled to a general business credit of $2,850                                     |
| THREE | March 5, 2016                   | 2015            | IRS Form 1040 and Form 3800 submitted on behalf of M.S., representing that M.S. was entitled to a general business credit of $3,500                                                                                     |
| FOUR  | February 10, 2017               | 2016            | IRS Form 1040 and Form 3800 submitted on behalf of M.S., representing that M.S. was entitled to a general business credit of $4,400                                                                                     |
| FIVE  | February 4, 2018                | 2017            | IRS Form 1040 and Schedule A submitted on behalf of M.S., representing that M.S. had made gifts to charity by cash or check of $1,813, had unreimbursed employee expenses of $9,850, and had other expenses of $5,054 |

| Count | Date Tax Return Prepared | Tax Year | Description of Documents and False and Fraudulent Statements                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          |
|--------------|---------------------------------|-----------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| SIX   | February 9, 2014                | 2013            | IRS Form 1040, Schedule C, Form 3800, and Form 8863 submitted on behalf of V.I. and D.S., representing that they had a business loss of $3,111, were entitled to a general business credit of $2,500, and had incurred at least $4,000 in education expenses and were entitled to an LLC of $1,500 and an AOC of $1,000 |
| SEVEN | February 4, 2015                | 2014            | IRS Form 1040, Schedule C, Form 3800, and Form 8863 submitted on behalf of V.I. and D.S., representing that they had a business loss of $2,976, were entitled to a general business credit of $1,000, and had incurred at least $8,000 in education expenses and were entitled to an LLC of $3,000 and an AOC of $2,000 |
| EIGHT | February 5, 2016                | 2015            | IRS Form 1040, Schedule A, and Form 3800 submitted on behalf of V.I. and D.S., representing that they had unreimbursed employee expenses of $4,789, had other expenses of $5,500, and were entitled to a general business credit of $1,688                                                                                |

| Count    | Date Tax Return Prepared | Tax Year | Description of Documents and False and Fraudulent Statements                                                                                                                             |
|-----------------|---------------------------------|-----------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| NINE     | February 13, 2017               | 2016            | IRS Form 1040, Schedule C, and Form 3800 submitted on behalf of V.I. and D.S., representing that they had a business loss of $11,778 and were entitled to a general business credit of $3,700 |
| TEN      | January 29, 2018                | 2017            | IRS Form 1040 and Schedule A submitted on behalf of V.I. and D.S., representing that they had unreimbursed employee expenses of $22,256 and had other expenses of $9,189                      |
| ELEVEN   | February 21, 2015               | 2014            | IRS Form 1040, Schedule C, and Form 3800 submitted on behalf of T.H. and B.H., representing that they had a business loss of $7,355 and were entitled to a general business credit of $4,000  |
| TWELVE   | February 6, 2016                | 2015            | IRS Form 1040, Schedule C, and Form 3800 submitted on behalf of T.H. and B.H., representing that they had a business loss of $7,991 and were entitled to a general business credit of $4,700  |
| THIRTEEN | February 12, 2017               | 2016            | IRS Form 1040, Schedule C, and Form 3800 submitted on behalf of T.H. and B.H., representing that they had a business loss of $6,132 and were entitled to a general business credit of $5,000  |

| Count     | Date Tax Return Prepared | Tax Year | Description of Documents and False and Fraudulent Statements                                                                                                                                                       |
|------------------|---------------------------------|-----------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| FOURTEEN  | February 14, 2018               | 2017            | IRS Form 1040, Schedule A, and Schedule C submitted on behalf of T.H. and B.H., representing that they had unreimbursed employee expenses of $10,306, had other expenses of $11,512, and had a business loss of $5,143 |
| FIFTEEN   | March 2, 2017                   | 2016            | IRS Form 1040, Schedule C, and Form 3800 submitted on behalf of F.F and H.F., representing that they had a business loss of $11,905 and were entitled to a general business credit of $4,300                            |
| SIXTEEN   | February 12, 2018               | 2017            | IRS Form 1040 and Schedule A submitted on behalf of F.F and H.F., representing that they had unreimbursed employee expenses of $7,118 and had other expenses of $12,534                                                 |
| SEVENTEEN | February 7, 2015                | 2014            | IRS Form 1040, Schedule C, and Form 3800 submitted on behalf of P.E. and R.E., representing that they had a business loss of $2,005 and were entitled to a general business credit of $1,925                            |
| EIGHTEEN  | February 7, 2016                | 2015            | IRS Form 1040 and Form 3800 submitted on behalf of P.E. and R.E., representing that they were entitled to a general business credit of $3,000                                                                            |

| Count        | Date Tax Return Prepared | Tax Year | Description of Documents and False and Fraudulent Statements                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             |
|---------------------|---------------------------------|-----------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| NINETEEN     | February 14, 2017               | 2016            | IRS Form 1040 and Form 3800 submitted on behalf of P.E. and R.E., representing that they were entitled to a general business credit of $3,550                                                                                                                                                                  |
| TWENTY       | February 25, 2018               | 2017            | IRS Form 1040 and Schedule A submitted on behalf of P.E. and R.E., representing that they had paid personal property taxes of $3,000, had paid other taxes of $3,175, had made gifts to charity by cash or check of $3,446, had unreimbursed employee expenses of $9,804, and had other expenses of $9,967 |
| TWENTY-ONE   | March 5, 2014                   | 2013            | IRS Form 1040 and Form 8863 submitted on behalf of L.N., representing that L.N. had incurred at least $4,000 in education expenses and was entitled to an LLC of $718 and an AOC of $1,000                                                                                                                   |
| TWENTY-TWO   | February 12, 2015               | 2014            | IRS Form 1040A and Form 8863 submitted on behalf of L.N., representing that L.N. had incurred $2,855 in education expenses and was entitled to an LLC of $308 and an AOC of $886                                                                                                                             |
| TWENTY-THREE | February 15, 2016               | 2015            | IRS Form 1040 and Form 3800 submitted on behalf of L.N. and S.N., representing that they were entitled to a general business credit of $2,700                                                                                                                                                                  |

| Count        | Date Tax Return Prepared | Tax Year | Description of Documents and False and Fraudulent Statements                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             |
|---------------------|---------------------------------|-----------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| TWENTY-FOUR  | March 15, 2017                  | 2016            | IRS Form 1040, Schedule C, and Form 3800 submitted on behalf of L.N. and S.N., representing that they had a business loss of $4,585 and were entitled to a general business credit of $2,500                                                                                                                  |
| TWENTY-FIVE  | February 4, 2018                | 2017            | IRS Form 1040, Schedule A, and Schedule C submitted on behalf of L.N. and S.N., representing that they had paid other taxes of $2,510, had made gifts to charity by cash or check of $3,525, had unreimbursed employee expenses of $9,812, had other expenses of $9,225, and had a business loss of $8,540 |
| TWENTY-SIX   | March 10, 2014                  | 2013            | IRS Form 1040, Schedule C, and Form 3800 submitted on behalf of M.C., representing that M.C. had a business loss of $5,891 and was entitled to a general business credit of $4,133                                                                                                                            |
| TWENTY-SEVEN | February 6, 2015                | 2014            | IRS Form 1040, Schedule C, and Form 3800 submitted on behalf of M.C., representing that M.C. had a business loss of $12,190 and was entitled to a general business credit of $5,500                                                                                                                           |

| Count        | Date Tax Return Prepared | Tax Year | Description of Documents and False and Fraudulent Statements                                                                                                                                                                                                   |
|---------------------|---------------------------------|-----------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| TWENTY-EIGHT | February 7, 2016                | 2015            | IRS Form 1040, Schedule A, Schedule C, and Form 3800 submitted on behalf of M.C., representing that M.C. had paid mortgage interest of $11,044, had a business loss of $6,079, and was entitled to a general business credit of $3,000                             |
| TWENTY-NINE  | February 1, 2017                | 2016            | IRS Form 1040, Schedule A, and Form 3800 submitted on behalf of M.C., representing that M.C. had paid other taxes of $3,010, had unreimbursed employee expenses of $10,394, had other expenses of $8,000, and was entitled to a general business credit of $1,131 |
| THIRTY       | January 29, 2018                | 2017            | IRS Form 1040 and Schedule A submitted on behalf of M.C., representing that M.C. had unreimbursed employee expenses of $9,815 and had other expenses of $6,266                                                                                                      |
| THIRTY-ONE   | February 5, 2014                | 2013            | IRS Form 1040, Schedule C, and Form 3800 submitted on behalf of A.S., representing that A.S. had a business loss of $18,338 and was entitled to a general business credit of $3,000                                                                                 |
| THIRTY-TWO   | February 2, 2015                | 2014            | IRS Form 1040, Schedule C, and Form 3800 submitted on behalf of A.S., representing that A.S. had a business loss of $16,350 and was entitled to a general business credit of $4,500                                                                                 |

| Count        | Date Tax Return Prepared | Tax Year | Description of Documents and False and Fraudulent Statements                                                                                                                                             |
|---------------------|---------------------------------|-----------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| THIRTY-THREE | January 19, 2016                | 2015            | IRS Form 1040, Schedule C, and Form 3800 submitted on behalf of A.S., representing that A.S. had a business loss of $14,625 and was entitled to a general business credit of $4,133                           |
| THIRTY-FOUR  | February 1, 2017                | 2016            | IRS Form 1040 and Form 3800 submitted on behalf of A.S., representing that A.S. was entitled to a general business credit of $6,351                                                                            |
| THIRTY-FIVE  | February 4, 2018                | 2017            | IRS Form 1040, Schedule A, and Schedule C submitted on behalf of A.S., representing that A.S. had unreimbursed employee expenses of $9,758, had other expenses of $9,401, and had a business loss of $13,530 |
| THIRTY-SIX   | April 9, 2015                   | 2014            | IRS Form 1040, Schedule C, and Form 3800 submitted on behalf of S.D., representing that S.D. had a business loss of $5,134 and was entitled to a general business credit of $4,000                            |
| THIRTY-SEVEN | February 19, 2016               | 2015            | IRS Form 1040, Schedule C, and Form 3800 submitted on behalf of S.D., representing that S.D. had a business loss of $4,498 and was entitled to a general business credit of $4,500                            |

| Count        | Date Tax Return Prepared | Tax Year | Description of Documents and False and Fraudulent Statements                                                                                                                                                       |
|---------------------|---------------------------------|-----------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| THIRTY-EIGHT | March 5, 2017                   | 2016            | IRS Form 1040 and Form 3800 submitted on behalf of S.D., representing that S.D. was entitled to a general business credit of $3,500                                                                                      |
| THIRTY-NINE  | April 16, 2018                  | 2017            | IRS Form 1040 and Schedule A submitted on behalf of S.D., representing that S.D. had paid other taxes of $3,547, had unreimbursed employee expenses of $3,550, and had other expenses of $7,371                        |
| FORTY        | February 25, 2015               | 2014            | IRS Form 1040, Schedule C, and Form 3800 submitted on behalf of J.Q. and M.Q., representing that they had a business loss of $13,414 and were entitled to a general business credit of $4,363                           |
| FORTY-ONE    | February 13, 2016               | 2015            | IRS Form 1040, Schedule C, and Form 3800 submitted on behalf of J.Q. and M.Q., representing that they had a business loss of $14,242 and were entitled to a general business credit of $5,000                           |
| FORTY-TWO    | April 12, 2017                  | 2016            | IRS Form 1040, Schedule A, and Schedule C submitted on behalf of J.Q. and M.Q., representing that they had unreimbursed employee expenses of $9,610, had other expenses of $10,545, and had a business loss of $27,106 |

| Count       | Date Tax Return Prepared | Tax Year | Description of Documents and False and Fraudulent Statements                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    |
|--------------------|---------------------------------|-----------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| FORTY-THREE | February 10, 2018               | 2017            | IRS Form 1040, Schedule A, and Schedule C submitted on behalf of J.Q. and M.Q., representing that they had paid personal property taxes of $3,225, had paid other taxes of $6,329, had unreimbursed employee expenses of $18,184, had other expenses of $9,400, and had a business loss of $9,010 |
| FORTY-FOUR  | April 22, 2014                  | 2013            | IRS Form 1040, Schedule C, and Form 3800 submitted on behalf of J.D. and T.D., representing that they had a business loss of $16,733 and were entitled to a general business credit of $2,825                                                                                                        |
| FORTY-FIVE  | February 26, 2015               | 2014            | IRS Form 1040, Schedule C, and Form 3800 submitted on behalf of J.D. and T.D., representing that they had a business loss of $9,762 and were entitled to a general business credit of $3,000                                                                                                         |
| FORTY-SIX   | March 2, 2016                   | 2015            | IRS Form 1040, Schedule C, and Form 3800 submitted on behalf of J.D. and T.D., representing that they had a business loss of $16,200 and were entitled to a general business credit of $3,105                                                                                                        |

| Count       | Date Tax Return Prepared | Tax Year | Description of Documents and False and Fraudulent Statements                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    |
|--------------------|---------------------------------|-----------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| FORTY-SEVEN | March 30, 2017                  | 2016            | IRS Form 1040, Schedule A, and Schedule C submitted on behalf of J.D. and T.D., representing that they had paid other taxes of $2,594, had paid home mortgage interest not reported on Form 1098 of $3,415, had made gifts to charity by cash or check of $4,249, had unreimbursed employee expenses of $9,776, had other expenses of $2,871, and had a business loss of $15,814 |
| FORTY-EIGHT | April 29, 2018                  | 2017            | IRS Form 1040, Schedule A, and Schedule C submitted on behalf of J.D. and T.D., representing that they had paid other taxes of $4,620, had paid home mortgage interest not reported on Form 1098 of $3,415, had made gifts to charity by cash or check of $1,500, had unreimbursed employee expenses of $8,125, had other expenses of $7,250, and had a business loss of $10,854 |
| FORTY-NINE  | March 14, 2015                  | 2014            | IRS Form 1040, Schedule C, and Form 3800 submitted on behalf of C.J., representing that C.J. had a business loss of $16,013 and was entitled to a general business credit of $3,000                                                                                                                                                                                                  |

| Count       | Date Tax Return Prepared | Tax Year | Description of Documents and False and Fraudulent Statements                                                                                                                                                                             |
|--------------------|---------------------------------|-----------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| FIFTY       | February 11, 2016               | 2015            | IRS Form 1040, Schedule C, and Form 3800 submitted on behalf of C.J., representing that C.J. had a business loss of $7,697 and was entitled to a general business credit of $3,700                                                            |
| FIFTY-ONE   | February 12, 2017               | 2016            | IRS Form 1040, Schedule C, and Form 3800 submitted on behalf of C.J., representing that C.J. had a business loss of $8,299 and was entitled to a general business credit of $5,500                                                            |
| FIFTY-TWO   | March 11, 2018                  | 2017            | IRS Form 1040 and Schedule A submitted on behalf of C.J., representing that C.J. had paid personal property taxes of $2,349, had paid other taxes of $3,447, had unreimbursed employee expenses of $9,813, and had other expenses of $9,800 |
| FIFTY-THREE | April 5, 2016                   | 2015            | IRS Form 1040 and Form 3800 submitted on behalf of R.D., representing that R.D. was entitled to a general business credit of $2,500                                                                                                            |
| FIFTY-FOUR  | February 27, 2017               | 2016            | IRS Form 1040 and Form 3800 submitted on behalf of R.D., representing that R.D. was entitled to a general business credit of $4,000                                                                                                            |

| Count      | Date Tax Return Prepared | Tax Year | Description of Documents and False and Fraudulent Statements                                                                                                                                                                                        |
|-------------------|---------------------------------|-----------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| FIFTY-FIVE | February 19, 2018               | 2017            | IRS Form 1040 and Schedule A submitted on behalf of R.D., representing that R.D. had paid other taxes of $1,991, had made gifts to charity by cash or check of $3,071, had unreimbursed employee expenses of $9,803, and had other expenses of $10,971 |

All in violation of 26 U.S.C. § 7206(2).

COUNT FIFTY-SIX

On or about April 3, 2014, in Duval County, in the Middle District of Florida, the defendant,

KENYAN SHONDRE SCOTT,

who was a resident of Jacksonville, Florida, did willfully make and subscribe a 2013 Form 1040, U.S. Individual Income Tax Return, which contained a written declaration that it was made under penalties of perjury and which the defendant did not believe to be true and correct as to every material matter, in that the defendant stated in the Tax Return that his filing status was single, that he had earned wages, salaries, and tips of $12,325, that he had net business income of $29,554, that he was entitled to a general business credit of $4,300, and that he had federal income tax withheld of $4,532, when, as the defendant knew, his filing status was either married filing jointly or married filing separately, he had not earned any wages, salaries, or tips, he had net business income of approximately $113,960, he was not entitled to a general business credit, and he had not had any federal income tax withheld, and did file the Tax Return with the Internal Revenue Service.

In violation of 26 U.S.C. § 7206(1).

COUNT FIFTY-SEVEN

On or about August 25, 2015, in Duval County, in the Middle District of Florida, the defendant,

KENYAN SHONDRE SCOTT,

who was a resident of Jacksonville, Florida, did willfully make and subscribe a 2014 Form 1040, U.S. Individual Income Tax Return, which contained a written declaration that it was made under penalties of perjury and which the defendant did not believe to be true and correct as to every material matter, in that the defendant stated in the Tax Return that his filing status was single, that he had earned wages, salaries, and tips of $12,875, that he had net business income of $28,467, that he was entitled to a general business credit of $3,500, and that he had federal income tax withheld of $4,532, when, as the defendant knew, his filing status was either married filing jointly or married filing separately, he had not earned any wages, salaries, or tips, he had net business income of approximately $297,110, he was not entitled to a general business credit, and he had not had any federal income tax withheld, and did file the Tax Return with the Internal Revenue Service.

In violation of 26 U.S.C. § 7206(1).

COUNT FIFTY-EIGHT

On or about August 27, 2016, in Duval County, in the Middle District of Florida, the defendant,

KENYAN SHONDRE SCOTT,

who was a resident of Jacksonville, Florida, did willfully make and subscribe a 2015 Form 1040, U.S. Individual Income Tax Return, which contained a written declaration that it was made under penalties of perjury and which the defendant did not believe to be true and correct as to every material matter, in that the defendant stated in the Tax Return that his filing status was single, that he had earned wages, salaries, and tips of $12,885, that he had net business income of $26,963, that he was entitled to a general business credit of $3,000, and that he had federal income tax withheld of $4,542, when, as the defendant knew, his filing status was either married filing jointly or married filing separately, he had not earned any wages, salaries, or tips, he had net business income of approximately $170,760, he was not entitled to a general business credit, and he had not had any federal income tax withheld, and did file the Tax Return with the Internal Revenue Service.

In violation of 26 U.S.C. § 7206(1).

COUNT FIFTY-NINE

On or about October 27, 2017, in Duval County, in the Middle District of Florida, the defendant,

KENYAN SHONDRE SCOTT,

who was a resident of Jacksonville, Florida, did willfully make and subscribe a 2016 Form 1040, U.S. Individual Income Tax Return, which contained a written declaration that it was made under penalties of perjury and which the defendant did not believe to be true and correct as to every material matter, in that the defendant stated in the Tax Return that his filing status was single, that he had earned wages, salaries, and tips of $12,889, that he had net business income of $16,337, and that he had federal income tax withheld of $4,547, when, as the defendant knew, his filing status was either married filing jointly or married filing separately, he had not earned any wages, salaries, or tips, he had net business income of approximately $211,429, and he had not had any federal income tax withheld, and did file the Tax Return with the Internal Revenue Service.

In violation of 26 U.S.C. § 7206(1).

A TRUE BILL,

_____
Foreperson

MARIA CHAPA LOPEZ
United States Attorney

By:

_____
ARNOLD B. CORSMEIER
Assistant United States Attorney

By:

_____
KELLY S. KARASE
Assistant United States Attorney
Deputy Chief, Jacksonville Division

No.

---

---

UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT
Middle District of Florida
Jacksonville Division

---

---

THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA

vs.

KENYAN SHONDRE SCOTT

---

---

INDICTMENT

Violations:

26 U.S.C. § 7206(1) & (2)

---

---

A true bill,

_____
Foreperson

---

---

Filed in open court this 4th day of March, 2020.

_____
Clerk

---

---

Bail $ _____

---

---