THE GRAND JURY CHARGES:

COUNT ONE

A. INTRODUCTION

At all times material to this Indictment:

1. The United States Small Business Administration (“SBA”) was an executive-branch agency of the United States government that provides support to entrepreneurs and small businesses. The mission of the SBA was to maintain and strengthen the nation's economy by enabling the establishment and viability of small businesses and by assisting in the economic recovery of communities after disasters.

2. As part of this effort, the SBA enabled and provided for loans through banks, credit unions, and other lenders. These loans had government-backed guarantees.

The Paycheck Protection Program

3. The Coronavirus Aid, Relief, and Economic Security ("CARES") Act was a federal law enacted in or around March 2020, and was designed to provide emergency financial assistance to the millions of Americans who are suffering the economic effects caused by the COVID-19 pandemic. One source of relief provided by the CARES Act was the authorization of up to $349 billion in forgivable loans to small businesses for job retention and certain other expenses, through a program referred to as the SBA Paycheck Protection Program ("PPP"). In or around April 2020, Congress authorized over $300 billion in additional PPP funding.

4. In order to obtain a PPP loan, a qualifying business was required to submit a PPP loan application, called an SBA Form 2483. The PPP loan application required the business (through its authorized representative) to acknowledge the program rules and make certain affirmative certifications in order to be eligible to obtain the PPP loan. In the PPP loan application, the small business (through its authorized representative) was required to certify, among other things, its: (a) average monthly payroll expenses, and (b) number of employees. These figures were used to calculate the amount of money the small business was eligible to receive under the PPP. In addition, businesses applying for a PPP loan were required to provide documentation showing their payroll expenses and that they were in business as of February 15, 2020. Further, businesses applying for a PPP loan were required to make good faith certifications, including that economic uncertainties had necessitated their loan requests for continued business operations, and that they intended to use loan proceeds only for the authorized, and not any duplicative, purposes.

5. PPP loan applications were required to be signed by an authorized representative of the business. By signing PPP loan applications, applicants attested that the information provided in the application and in all supporting documents and forms was true and accurate, and that the applicant understood that knowingly making a false statement to obtain a PPP loan was a crime.

6. PPP loan proceeds must have been used by the business on certain permissible expenses- payroll costs, interest on mortgages, rent, and utilities. The SBA allowed the interest and principal on the PPP loan to be entirely forgiven if the business spent the loan proceeds on these expense items within a designated period of time (usually eight weeks of receiving the proceeds) and used at least 75% of the PPP loan proceeds on payroll expenses.

7. A PPP loan application was required to be processed by a participating financial institution (“the lender”). If a PPP loan application was approved, the lender funded the PPP loan using its own monies, which were 100% guaranteed by the SBA. Data from the loan application, including information about the borrower, the total amount of the loan, and the listed number of employees, was electronically transmitted by the lender to the SBA in the course of processing the loan.

Economic Injury Disaster Loans

8. Another related response to the COVID-19 outbreak was an expansion of an existing disaster-related program – the Economic Injury Disaster Loan (“EIDL”) – to provide for loan assistance (including $10,000 advances) for small businesses and other eligible entities for loans up to $2 million. The EIDL proceeds could have been used to pay fixed debts, payroll, accounts payable, and other bills that could have been paid had the disaster not occurred; however, such loan proceeds were not intended to replace lost sales or profits, or for the expansion of a business.

9. Unlike certain other types of SBA-guaranteed loans, EIDL funds were issued directly from the United States Treasury, and applicants applied for EIDL funds directly through the SBA via an online portal and application. The EIDL application process, which also used certain outside contractors for system support, collected information concerning the business and the business owner, including: information about the gross revenues for the business prior to January 31, 2020; and the cost of goods sold. Applicants electronically certified that the information provided was true and accurate and were warned that any false statement or misrepresentation to the SBA, or any misapplication of loan proceeds may result in sanctions, including criminal penalties.

Financial Institutions

10. Florida Credit Union (“FCU”), Navy Federal Credit Union (“NFCU”), and Guardians Credit Union (“GCU”) were financial institutions, the deposits of which were federally insured by the National Credit Union Share Insurance Fund. FCU, NFCU, and GCU offered PPP loans to its customers.

11. Celtic Bank (“Celtic”), Wells Fargo Bank, N.A. (“Wells Fargo”), TD Bank, N.A. (“TD Bank”), Bank of America, N.A.
