1. At various times relevant to this Indictment, the defendants, ANGEL DELEON, JOE GALLEGOS, EDWARD TROUP, a.k.a. "Huero Troup," LEONARD LUJAN, BILLY GARCIA, a.k.a. "Wild Bill," EUGENE MARTINEZ, a.k.a. "Little Guero," ALLEN PATTERSON, CHRISTOPHER CHAVEZ, a.k.a. "Critter," JAVIER ALONSO, a.k.a. "Wineo," ARTURO ARNULFO GARCIA, a.k.a. "Dan Dan," GERALD ARCHULETA, a.k.a. "Styx," a.k.a. "Grandma," CONRAD VILLEGAS, a.k.a. "Chitmon," and CHRISTOPHER GARCIA, and others were members/prospects/associates of the Sindicato de Nuevo Mexico Gang (SNM), a criminal organization whose members/prospects/associates engaged in acts of violence and other criminal activities, including, murder, kidnapping, attempted murder, conspiracy to manufacture/distribute narcotics, and firearms trafficking. At all relevant times, SNM operated in the District of New Mexico and elsewhere.

2. SNM, including its leadership, membership, prospects, and associates, constituted an enterprise as defined in Title 18, United States Code, Section 1959(b)(2), that is, a group of individuals associated in fact that engaged in, and the activities of which, affected interstate commerce. The enterprise constituted an ongoing organization whose members/prospects/associates functioned as a continuing unit for a common purpose of achieving the objectives of the enterprise.

GENERAL BACKGROUND

3. The Sindicato de Nuevo Mexico ("SNM"), Spanish for Syndicate of New Mexico, is a powerful and violent prison gang, which controlled drug distribution and other illegal activities within the New Mexico penal system, and was also involved in street level narcotics trafficking. It was formed in the early 1980s at the Penitentiary of New Mexico after a prison riot at the penitentiary in February, 1980. During the prison riot, twelve correctional officers were taken hostage and several of them were seriously assaulted and raped by inmates. Thirty-three inmates were killed during the riot and more than two hundred were injured.

4. Following the prison riot, the SNM Gang expanded throughout the New Mexico penal system and has boasted of as many as 500 members since the early 1980s. The SNM Gang was comprised of approximately 250 members, who are known as "hermanos," "brothers," "carnales," "dons," "jefes," "big hommies," or "Zia manos" and who controlled the gang. The SNM operated under a "panel" or "mesa" (Spanish for table) of leaders who issued orders to subordinate gang members.

5. Despite being imprisoned and being closely scrutinized by prison officials, SNM Gang leaders managed to convey orders to SNM Gang members and associates throughout the prison system and outside the prison system through a variety of means, including secret notes, called "kites," or "welas," coded letters, and messages conveyed by complicit visitors. When SNM Gang members or associates completed their sentences and rejoined their communities, they were expected to remain loyal to the SNM Gang and work to further the goals of the SNM

Gang outside the prison environment. Members who fail to show continued loyalty to the gang were disciplined in various ways, to include murder and assaults. One of the significant goals of the SNM Gang was to control and profit from narcotics trafficking.

6. In addition to exerting its control in the New Mexico penal system, the SNM Gang also operated on the streets of New Mexico by intimidating and influencing smaller New Mexico Hispanic gangs for the purpose of establishing a larger network for the SNM's illegal activities. If a gang did not accede to the SNM Gang's demands, the SNM Gang assaulted or killed the gang's members who were not in custody as well as those members who were incarcerated within the New Mexico penal system. In addition to intimidation through direct assaults, the SNM Gang was also able to assert control and influence over gang members outside the penal system because gangs did not want their members outside the penal system to be assaulted or killed, and because the gang members knew that, if they are incarcerated, they would need the protection of the SNM Gang while they served their sentences.

7. The SNM Gang had been and continues to be engaged in a fierce and violent war with rival gangs, to include the Barrio Azteca, Los Carnales, Sureños, and Burqueños gangs. Within the prison system, this rivalry manifested itself in beatings and stabbings, which often resulted in death. Outside the prison system, the SNM Gang fought for control of territory in which to conduct narcotics trafficking and other crimes, as well as to recruit and influence non-gang members. In addition to fighting for control over numerous illegal activities and using violence and terror for the purpose of enriching themselves, the SNM Gang also engaged in violence simply to assert its gang identity, to claim or protect its territory, to challenge or respond to challenges, to retaliate against a rival gang or member, to gain notoriety and show its superiority over others, and to send a message to others that it was strong, powerful and not to be provoked.

8. The SNM Gang sought to maintain its reputation for being strong and powerful and maintained its membership to continue functioning as an organization in prison and on the streets. If the SNM Gang was perceived as being weak, then rival gangs would challenge and assault its members and take over its territory. This could have caused the gang to lose membership and eventually dissolve. The SNM Gang maintained a large membership and a reputation for being strong, powerful and dominant so that rival gangs would think twice before they challenged it and victims/witnesses would think twice about assisting authorities with any prosecution attempt against it. This allowed the gang to grow in strength, thrive in its criminal activity, and dominate its territory. A member of the SNM Gang was expected to seek out and beat, stab, or shoot rival gang members. Similarly, a member of the SNM Gang was expected to confront and attack any suspected law enforcement informants, cooperating witness, homosexuals, or sex offenders.

9. SNM Gang members identified themselves with the Zia symbol and the letters "SNM" or "S," which represented the "Syndicato de Nuevo Mexico" or "Syndicato" which is Spanish for Syndicate. SNM Gang members also utilized the number "19" which represents the 19th letter of the alphabet, "S," and "505," which corresponds with the area code for the greater Albuquerque area. The SNM Gang claimed the entire state of New Mexico as its territory, which was broken into four geographical regions: North, South, East, and West. As with the numbers "19," and "505," the letters "S" or "SNM," the Zia symbol, and the Spanish word "Syndicato" were commonly, but not exclusively, displayed by SNM Gang members in tattoos, graffiti, drawings, and on clothing, as a way of displaying affiliation, loyalty, and commitment to the gang.

"Shadow," and DANIEL SANCHEZ, a.k.a. "Dan Dan," were the leaders of the enterprise who directed or delegated the power to direct other members of the enterprise to carry out unlawful and other activities in furtherance of the conduct of the enterprise's affairs.

- e. Members of the SNM Gang also used violence to impose discipline within the SNM Gang. It was further part of the means and methods of the enterprise that the defendants and other members and associates of the SNM Gang agree to distribute narcotics and commit other crimes, and to conceal their criminal activities by obstructing justice, threatening and intimidating witnesses, and other means.

14. The SNM gang enterprise through its members and associates, engaged in racketeering activity as defined 18 U.S.C. §§ 1959(b)(1) and 1961(1), that is acts and threats involving murder in violation of New Mexico law and offenses involving trafficking in narcotics in violation of 21 U.S.C. §§ 841 and 846.
