Greetings from U.S. Attorney Billy J. Williams

It's that time of year in many parts of Oregon when the weather is finally shifting and we're seeing new growth spring forth from the land around us. In our work, we see new opportunity to grow relationships, collaborate across jurisdictions, acknowledge shortcomings, and build on strengths and opportunities. In this space, I want to highlight a few of the successes we have seen over the past three months as well as opportunities for growth to better serve Native victims.

Our office receives many emails and notices about available grant opportunities. We will often forward these opportunities to our Tribal contacts, and since the inception of this newsletter last November, we have included them in the Funding Opportunities section below. Recently, we created a subpage on our website that lists all the current grants. We will update the website about every two weeks as we learn of new opportunities to share. We will continue to highlight a few specific grants in the newsletter as well as send individual emails, and we remain available to consult with and support you through your grant writing processes.

June 15 was World Elder Abuse Awareness Day. In tribal communities, elders are cherished and revered as “wisdom keepers.” The theme for this year’s World Elder Abuse Awareness Day was Lift up Voices, reminding us that we have an obligation to protect elder voice and wisdom, to respond to elder abuse, to bring forward the voices of elders when they speak, and to seek elder justice. Our district’s Elder Justice Coordinator recently trained the Umatilla Tribal Police Department and Pendleton FBI on elder investigations and how to discern signs of elder abuse and neglect through careful listening, observing, and investigating. Our Tribal Victim Assistance Specialist was invited to attend the Warm Springs Elder Abuse Multidisciplinary Team meeting, where she learned about the ongoing support and coordinated response to vulnerable Warm Springs elders. And just last week we received the Department of Justice Elder Justice Initiative Resource Packet for Tribal Liaisons; please take a look and use the presentations, brochures, and referrals at your discretion. We look forward to our continued opportunities to help protect elders and lift up their voices.

In May, our office was invited to participate in the City of Portland’s Missing and Murdered Indigenous Women (MMIW) awareness and education events. I attended the MMIW Awareness proclamation at Portland City Hall along with several AUSAs and USAO staff, and we made many connections with tribal, city, and county employees working to end the epidemic of violence against and erasure of Native women. I also attended Governor Brown's May 16 signing of Oregon's House Bill 2625 at the state capitol, mandating OSP to conduct a study to determine how to increase and improve criminal justice response and investigation of MMIW in this state. Our Tribal Victim Assistance Specialist was invited to speak at Portland State University on the informational panel
Unseen, Unheard, Unprotected: MMIW to discuss the intersection of domestic violence, sexual violence, and trafficking of Native women and the laws, policies, practices, and collaboration necessary to better protect Native women. I was humbled to learn more about the epidemic, and honored for the opportunity to cultivate new partnerships and connections to address this violence.

June is LGBTQ Pride Month. On June 16, I joined our office in once again marching in Portland’s Pride parade. What an incredible celebration of both our uniqueness and our one-ness in the District of Oregon! In our What We’re Watching and Reading section below, we highlight the Decolonize Love video that encourages us to “re-establish our 2Spirit/LGBTQ relatives’ place” and voice in our work. We must evaluate if our services to crime victims are accessible, inclusive, and informed to promote safety and restore value for our 2Spirit and LGBTQ victims, who experience some of the highest rates of victimization. We accept the challenge to ask questions of our past, present, and future ability to serve and support marginalized victims. We are committed to doing better.

Sincerely,
Billy J. Williams
U.S. Attorney

USAO and DOI Meeting

On April 22, 2019, the USAO IC team met with Regional Solicitor Lynn Peterson and her team at the local Department of Interior office in Portland. The group discussed Public Lands, Fish and Wildlife, and Indian Country issues. It was a great opportunity to open lines of communication, discuss cases and processes, and connect with peers.

Recent Prosecution Highlights from the USAO District of Oregon

US v. Dion Denny- AUSA Jennifer Martin prosecuted this Umatilla case where the defendant pleaded guilty to Assault by Striking, Beating, or Wounding. The defendant was sentenced on March 25, 2019, to 5 years’ probation, where he must undergo treatment for substance and alcohol abuse, mental health, and anger management, and may not have any contact with his victim or Confederated Tribes of the Umatilla Indian Reservation. The crime victim attended the sentencing hearing and gave a verbal victim impact statement at the hearing.

US v. John Joseph Wallace, Jr.- AUSA Paul Maloney prosecuted this Warm Springs case where the defendant, a former Warm Springs PD and Madras PD police officer, pleaded guilty to three counts of Abusive Sexual Contact with a Child. He was sentenced on April 11, 2019, to 72 months’ prison followed by lifetime supervised release, including orders to undergo sex offender treatment; register as a sex offender; not to have any contact with any minors including the crime victim; and pay restitution of $854.00 for the victim’s medical costs. The defendant was also prosecuted in Jefferson County by Special Prosecutor Ruth Roe from the Oregon Attorney General’s Office, where he entered an Alford Plea to Attempted Sexual Abuse in the First Degree and Official Misconduct in the First Degree. Defendant was sentenced on April 12, 2019, to 30 months’ prison to be served concurrently to the federal case, and he agreed to relinquish his DPSST certification. The crime victim and family members gave written and verbal victim impact statements at each sentencing hearing. USAO Press release: Former Madras Police Officer Sentenced to Six Years in Federal Prison for Repeated Sexual Abuse of Minor.

US v. Dat Quoc Do- AUSAs Paul Maloney and Lew Burkhart prosecuted this Warm Springs case where the defendant was found guilty at trial by jury on March 15, 2019, of two counts of Unlawful Use of a Weapon for discharging his firearm during a road rage altercation on the Warm Springs Indian Reservation in September 2017. Three victims, including one minor victim, were present for and testified at the three-day trial. At sentencing on June 10, 2019, the defendant was sentenced to 3 years’ probation. During probation, he must undergo treatment for mental health, may not have any contact with the victims, and must pay $1,158.89 restitution to the victims for their lost wages due to the investigation and trial. The crime victims attended the sentencing hearing and each gave a verbal victim impact statement at the hearing. USAO Press release: Madras Man Found Guilty of Discharging Firearm During Road Rage Altercation on Warm Springs Indian Reservation.

US v. Johnny Ellery Smith- AUSAs Paul Maloney and Kelly Zusman argued this case before the 9th Circuit Court of Appeals on October 10, 2018, and the decision was just issued on May 28, 2019. At issue was whether a federal prosecutor can use the Assimilative Crimes Act (ACA) to charge and prosecute a defendant in Indian Country. Broadly, the ACA allows federal prosecutors to charge defendants with crimes under the state court statutes if there is no applicable federal statute crime that captures the defendant's criminal behavior. In this case, defendant entered conditional guilty pleas in federal court under the ACA to Fleeing or Attempting to Elude a Police Officer, but argued on appeal that the federal government did not have jurisdiction to prosecute him because the ACA does not apply to Indian Country. The panel found that the prosecution of Mr. Smith was indeed lawful, and affirmed his conviction. The panel reinforced the three exceptions to ACA already found under the Indian Country Crimes Act (ICCA): 1) victim crimes in IC committed by one Indian against another Indian, 2) crimes in IC already punished under tribal code, and 3) crimes in IC where the tribe’s treaty specifies exclusive jurisdiction to the tribe. Read the full opinion here.

US v. Dustin Raphael- AUSA Greg Nyhus prosecuted this Supervised Release Violation case. The defendant was previously convicted in 2009 in the District of Arizona for Assault with a Dangerous Weapon. After serving a BOP sentence of 84 months in prison, he lawfully transferred his supervision to the District of Oregon. On April 15, 2019, he committed a new domestic violence crime in the jurisdiction of Portland Police Bureau against a new crime victim, which was in violation of his supervision in his federal case. At a contested violation hearing on May 20, 2019, he was found in violation by Judge Marco A. Hernandez and sanctioned with a 12 month prison sentence followed by 11 months of additional Supervised Release. He was ordered to undergo mental health treatment, domestic violence treatment, and to continue to repay his original crime victim restitution; he still owes $6,167.53 from the original $13,041.00 judgment. He was also ordered not to have contact with either crime victim, one of whom was present in the courtroom for the hearing.

US v. Joel Salt- AUSA Jennifer Martin prosecuted this Umatilla case where the defendant pleaded guilty to Assault by Strangling. The defendant was sentenced on May 28, 2019, to credit for time served, having already served 22 months in custody while the case was pending, followed by 3 years’ supervised release. During supervision, he must undergo treatment for substance and alcohol abuse, mental health, gambling, and batterers’ intervention, and may not have any contact with the victim, his children, or Confederated Tribes of the Umatilla Indian Reservation. The crime victim attended the sentencing hearing and gave a verbal victim impact statement at the hearing. USAO Press release: Umatilla Man Sentenced for Strangling Victim Near Children.

US v. Christina Barkley- AUSA Jennifer Martin prosecuted this Umatilla case where the defendant pleaded guilty to Assault with a Dangerous Weapon. The defendant was sentenced on June 10, 2019, to 21 months’ prison, followed by 3 years’ supervised release. During supervision, she must undergo treatment for substance and alcohol abuse, mental health, anger management, and family counseling, and may not have any offensive contact with the victim. The crime victim attended the sentencing hearing and gave a verbal victim impact statement at the hearing. USAO Press release: Umatilla Woman Sentenced to Federal Prison for Scissor Attack.

US v. Harold Blackwolf- AUSAs Paul Maloney, Benjamin Tolkoff, and Craig Gabriel prosecuted this Warm Springs case where the defendant pleaded guilty to two counts of Involuntary Manslaughter and one count of Felon in Possession of a Firearm. The defendant was sentenced on June 11, 2019, to 71 months’ prison, followed by 3 years’ supervised release. During supervision, he must undergo treatment for substance and alcohol abuse, and may not have any contact with the family of the deceased victims or the Confederated Tribes of Warm Springs. The family of the crime victims attended the sentencing hearing both in court and over the phone, submitted input for the sentence to the prosecutors, and one crime victim gave a verbal victim impact statement at the hearing. USAO Press releases: Warm Springs Man Pleads Guilty to Involuntary Manslaughter and Illegal Firearm Possession Warm Springs Man Sentenced to Federal Prison for Involuntary Manslaughter and Illegal Firearm Possession.

US v. Jeremy Howard- AUSAs Natalie Wight and Craig Gabriel prosecuted this Warm Springs case where the defendant pleaded guilty to Assault Resulting in Substantial Bodily Injury. The defendant was sentenced on June 11, 2019, to 3 years’ probation. During probation, he must undergo treatment for substance and alcohol abuse, anger management, may not have any contact with the minor victim, and must pay $38,908.19 in restitution for the crime victim’s medical bills and treatment. The parent of the minor crime victim attended the sentencing hearing and gave a verbal victim impact statement at the hearing.

Funding Opportunities

Remember to check out our new IC Grant Opportunities website, a compilation of even more grant opportunities. Some highlights are below.

Supporting Effective Interventions for Adolescent Sex Offenders and Youth with Sexual Behavior Problems FY 2019 Competitive Grant Solicitation
OJJDP is seeking proposals from applicant agencies to provide a continuum of intervention and supervision services for adolescent sex offenders and youth with sexual behavior problems; and treatment services for their victims and families/caregivers. Under this initiative, successful applicants will have an established multidisciplinary team that (1) supports a comprehensive, holistic approach to treating adolescents who commit sex crimes and youth with sexual behavior problems, and (2) provides support services to victims and families/caregivers. Application deadline is June 25, 2019.

Office for Victims of Crime Tribal Set-Aside Funding
OVC is seeking input on potential future tribal set-aside funding from the federal Crime Victims Fund. The Framing Paper issued by US DOJ outlines potential issues and includes: (1) an overview of how funds from the FY 2018 tribal set-aside were distributed; (2) the Department’s plans thus far for distributing the FY 2019 set-aside funds; (3) questions for tribal leaders to consider; and (4) OVC’s historical crime victim services grant programs for tribal communities. Please submit your comments by e-mail to ovctribalsetaside@ojp.usdoj.gov. Tribes may also submit comments by first-class mail to:
Office for Victims of Crime
Office of Justice Programs
810 7th Street, NW
Washington, DC 20531
Attn.: Allison Turkel
OVC will accept written comments from tribal leaders until 5 p.m. Eastern Time on July 1, 2019.

ODOJ CVSSD’s 2019-2022 VOCA Competitive Project Grant
Oregon Department of Justice (ODOJ) Crime Victim and Survivor Services Division (CVSSD) announces its release of an open Request for Application (RFA) titled: 2019-2022 VOCA Competitive Project Grant. Applications must address the provision of direct services under one of the following VOCA Categories: Sexual Assault, Child Abuse, Domestic Violence, General Victim Services, Underserved. Application deadline is July 9, 2019.

Public Transportation on Indian Reservations Program: Tribal Transit Program
The Federal Transit Administration (FTA) announces the availability of approximately $5 million in funding provided by the Public Transportation on Indian Reservations Program (Tribal Transit Program (TTP)), as authorized by 49 U.S.C. 5311(c)(1)(A), as amended by the Fixing America’s Surface Transportation Act (FAST), Public Law 114-94 (December 4, 2015). This is a national solicitation for project proposals and includes the selection criteria and program eligibility information for Fiscal Year 2019 projects. The primary purpose of these competitively selected grants is to support planning, capital, and, in limited circumstances, operating assistance for tribal public transit services. Funds distributed to Indian tribes under the TTP should not replace or reduce funds that Indian tribes receive from states through FTA’s Section 5311 program. Application deadline is July 9, 2019.

Enhancing Community Responses to the Opioid Crisis: Serving Our Youngest Crime Victims
The purpose of this solicitation is to address an urgent gap in crime victim services related to the opioid epidemic and to expand upon existing or establish new programs to provide services to children and youth who are victimized as the result of the opioid crisis. OVC anticipates that this solicitation will support service providers in expanding their current scope and expertise to ensure that children and youth—the most vulnerable victims impacted by the opioid crisis—are supported as they heal from the impact of crime and substance abuse. Application deadline is July 11, 2019.

Project Beacon: Increasing Services for Urban American Indian and Alaska Native Victims of Sex Trafficking
OVC will make awards to increase the quantity and quality of services currently available to American Indian and Alaska Native (AI/AN) victims of sex trafficking who reside in urban areas. Apply under one of the following purpose areas (PAs). PA 1: Direct Services: Applicants may request funding to: develop or enhance their organizational capacity to provide services to urban AI/AN victims of sex trafficking; develop and sustain collaborative partnerships; conduct community outreach and awareness activities; and provide training to other stakeholders on how to meet the needs of urban AI/AN victims of sex trafficking. PA 2: Training and Technical Assistance (TTA): Applicants may request funding to provide capacity-building TTA to successful grantees under Purpose Area 1. Application deadline is July 15, 2019.

Using Telehealth to Improve Care, Access and Quality of Sexual Assault Forensic Exams
Through the FY 2019 Using Telehealth to Improve Care, Access and Quality of Sexual Assault Forensic Exams solicitation, OVC seeks to develop or enhance statewide or regional telehealth programs to improve the quality of healthcare for sexual assault victims, increase the quality of forensic evidence collection, and expand the reach of Sexual Assault Nurse Examiner (SANE) services through telehealth for communities with limited access to trained SANEs. Application deadline is July 17, 2019.

Discretionary Training and Technical Assistance Program for VOCA Victim Assistance Grantees
The purpose of this solicitation is to provide training and technical assistance to VOCA Victim Assistance service providers and others who work with victims of crime. Activities funded through this program may include, but are not limited to: the establishment or enhancement of state victim assistance academies, statewide training initiatives, crime victim-related conferences, basic training for new programs, or scholarships to attend conferences and/or training. Eligible applicants are limited to state administering agencies for the Victims of Crime Act (VOCA) Victim Assistance Program Formula Grants. Application deadline is July 18, 2019.

Field-Generated Solutions for Tribal & Non-Tribal Communities to Improve Services for Victims of Crime
Through the FY 2019 Field-Generated Solutions for Tribal & Non-Tribal Communities to Improve Services for Victims of Crime solicitation, OVC seeks to support victims of crime and to bridge gaps in services to victims. The objectives of this program are to: 1) identify and address gaps in knowledge, 2) develop and assess innovative practices, 3) deliver much-needed victim assistance to American Indian and Alaska Native communities and other victim populations, 4) encourage evidence-based training and technical assistance, and/or 5) develop strategic approaches for leveraging resources to reach and serve more victims. Application deadline is July 24, 2019.

Law Enforcement-Based Victim Specialist Program
This program will develop or enhance crime victim specialist programs within law enforcement agencies to better support victims through the criminal justice process including by connecting them with community-based direct victim services programs to more quickly and more effectively serve them. Funding under this program will support an estimated 80 victim specialist grants to state, tribal, and/or local law enforcement agencies to hire victim services staff to develop new programs or enhance existing law enforcement-based victim specialist programs. Application deadline is July 25, 2019.

Tribal Victim Services Set-Aside
The overall goal of this program is to provide support to tribal communities to improve services for victims of crime. This program will support a comprehensive range of activities to address the needs of a wide variety of crime victims in tribal communities. Apply under the following Purpose Areas (PAs). PA 1 Establishment of a New Victim Service Program: Applicants that have no existing victim services program, including applicants that do not have programs and are going to coordinate with others to provide services to them. PA 2 Coordination and Expansion of Existing Victim Service Program: The goal for applicants under this purpose area is to become more victim-centered, culturally competent, more comprehensive, and improve coordination with likely partners. OVC will conduct a pre-application webinar on June 27, 2019. Application deadline is July 29, 2019.

Funding from Response Circles is available to request funding for an activity, event, or training that is associated with domestic & sexual violence prevention. The funds may be used for meeting expenses, materials and supplies for activities, incentives, travel, and training fees. About $11,000 is available for these requests by the Northwest Tribes and will be available until the money runs out. Contact Paige Smith with the Northwest Portland Area Indian Health Board for the application form. Request deadline is August 15, 2019.

NPAIHB has partnered with the SMART Project, a real-world online program for two spirit, gay, bi, and queer teens to learn more about their sexual identities and health. The SMART Project covers topics like navigating sex and romantic relationships and connecting with the community. We hope that through SMART, teens feel safe, confident, and empowered. Youth can earn up to $125 for taking part. Email or text 224-307-5355 for more information.

The University of Tennessee is sponsoring a research study examining how women make sense of their experience of sexual assault and manage their recovery. Participants can be women aged 18 years or older who have experienced one or more incidents of unwanted sexual contact as an adult (i.e., when you were 16 years or older), are eligible to participate. Responses to the survey items will be kept confidential. The online survey takes approximately 20-30 minutes to complete. To refer someone to this study or to participate, please click here or contact Lauren Hamrick.

April was Sexual Assault Awareness month, and it focused on bringing in audiences beyond advocates with the theme I Ask. I Ask encourages everyone, no matter the scenario, to ask respectfully for consent, to listen to the answer, and to respect the response. What To Do When You’re RAPED: An ABC Handbook for Native Girls, is from the Native American Women’s Health Education Resource Center.

April was also Child Abuse Prevention Month. The Indian Country Child Trauma Center (ICCTC) was established to develop trauma-related treatment protocols, outreach materials, and service delivery guidelines specifically designed for American Indian and Alaska Native children and their families. ICCTC incorporates both common and tribal-specific Native cultural perspectives and traditions; focuses on principles of current evidence-based models; and will accommodate the substantial individual-to-individual variability in cultural identity among Native people.

The National Indigenous Women’s Resource Center created a special collection MMIW resource page in support of the National Day of Awareness for Missing and Murdered Indigenous Women.

The Cithráh Foundation developed an app to allow domestic violence survivors to track abuse including the date, location, injuries, and images. The app looks like a lifestyle app, and information entered disappears from the phone and is stored remotely online, where it can only be accessed by the user with a code. Press on this resource is found here: Domestic abuse: NI charity develops app to track incidents. Contact the project coordinator to access the app here.

Trafficking Law Center is a new legal non-profit that supports human trafficking victims and survivors by providing pro bono legal services, providing trauma-informed training for attorneys, and raising public awareness and educating policymakers on human trafficking issues.

June is Pride Month. The LGBTQ – Two Spirit, Loved & Accepted. #WeNeedYouHere campaign encourages people to learn about the different gender and identities historically found in their Tribe(s). This campaign shows love, acceptance, and support for anyone identifying as Lesbian, Gay, Bisexual, Transgender, Queer, and/or Two Spirit. Please download, print, and pass on these amazing materials from NPAIHB.

NIWRC has launched WAS Talks (Women Are Sacred Talks), a unique forum for tribal survivors, advocates, researchers, legal community, social workers, law enforcement, community/family members, child welfare workers, philosophers, community leaders, politicians and tribal leaders to come make a statement, voice their concerns, express their creativity through poetry or staged reading, and talk about the future or direction of the movement to end violence against Native Women. They are available on YouTube.

A Note About Our Language

"Indian Country" is the legal term used to describe reservations and other lands set aside for Indian use, such as Indian allotments and lands held in trust for Indians or Indian tribes, and is defined under 18 U.S.C. § 1151. We use the term Indian Country versus the term Native American or some other term because it describes the statutory jurisdiction of the U.S. Attorney's Office.
