SEALED INDICTMENT

23 Cr.

23 CRIM 664

COUNT ONE

(Conspiracy to Commit Health Care Fraud and Wire Fraud)

The Grand Jury charges:

OVERVIEW

1. At all times relevant to this Indictment, ERIN FOLEY and TED ALBIN, the defendants, engaged in a scheme to buy and sell fraudulent written orders (also known as “prescriptions”) for durable medical equipment (“DME”), and to assist others in buying and selling such orders, in an effort to fraudulently bill the Medicare Program (“Medicare”) for more than approximately $25 million in DME, and to cause more than $9 million to be paid out on such fraudulent claims.

BACKGROUND

The Medicare Program

2. At all times relevant to this Indictment:
a. Medicare has been a federal health care program providing benefits to persons who are over the age of 65 or who are disabled. Medicare is administered by the Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services (“CMS”), a federal agency under the United States Department of Health and Human Services (“HHS”).

b. Individuals who receive Medicare benefits are referred to as “Medicare beneficiaries.”

c. Medicare is a “Federal health care program,” as defined in Title 42, United States Code, Section 1320a-7b(f), and a “health care benefit program,” as defined by Title 18, United States Code, Section 24(b).

d. Medicare is divided into four parts, which provide medical insurance for different types of services. Two of those four parts are Medicare Part B (“Part B”) and Medicare Part C (“Part C,” also known as Medicare Advantage program).

e. Among other things, Part B specifically covers medically necessary physician office services and outpatient care, including DME. DME includes prosthetics, orthotics, and supplies, such as off-the-shelf (“OTS”) ankle braces, knee braces, back braces, elbow braces, wrist braces, and hand braces (collectively “braces”), when such supplies are ordered by licensed medical doctors or other qualified health care providers.

f. Among other things, Part C provides a Medicare beneficiary with the option to receive Medicare benefits through a private health insurance company approved by Medicare, rather than directly through Medicare. Part C provides Medicare beneficiaries with all the services provided under Medicare Part B (except hospice), as well as some supplemental benefits. In exchange for managing these beneficiaries’ Medicare coverage, these private insurers are entitled to receive reimbursement from Medicare on a “capitation” basis, that is, based on the number of beneficiaries insured by that private insurer, subject to certain adjustments based on the beneficiaries’ age, gender, and health status.

g. DME supply companies, physicians, and other healthcare providers that provide DME and other products and services to Medicare beneficiaries are referred to as Medicare “providers.”

Durable Medical Equipment

3. At all times relevant to this indictment:

a. Part B and Part C of Medicare has covered the costs of DME only if, among other requirements, such items and services are reasonable, documented, and medically necessary for the treatment or diagnosis of the patient’s illness or injury, as defined by applicable Medicare regulations, and were actually provided as represented to Medicare.

b. Medicare claims were required to be properly documented in accordance with Medicare rules and regulations. For certain DME products, Medicare promulgated additional requirements that a DME order was required to meet for an order to be considered “reasonable and necessary.” For example, for OTS knee braces billed to Medicare under the Healthcare Common Procedures Coding System (“HCPCS”) Code L1851, an order would be deemed “not reasonable and necessary,” and reimbursement would be denied, unless the ordering physician documented the beneficiary’s knee instability using an objective description of joint laxity determined through a physical examination of the beneficiary.

c. Medicare will not reimburse claims for services procured through kickbacks and bribes. Such claims are deemed false and fraudulent because they violate Medicare laws, regulations, and program instructions, as well as violating federal criminal law. For example, where a DME order is procured through the payment of a kickback in violation of the Anti-Kickback Statute—set forth at Title 42 United States Code, Section 1320a-7b—a claim to Medicare for reimbursement for that order is fraudulent and will not be reimbursed by Medicare.

By implementing these restrictions, Medicare aims to preserve its resources, which are largely funded by United States taxpayers, for those elderly and other qualifying beneficiaries who have a genuine need for medical services.

Telemedicine

4. At all times relevant to this Indictment,
 - a. Telemedicine has provided a means of connecting patients to doctors by using telecommunications technology, such as the internet or the telephone, to interact with a patient.
 - b. Medicare Part B and Part C covered expenses for specified telehealth services if certain requirements were met. These requirements included that (i) the beneficiary was located in a rural or health professional shortage area; (ii) services were delivered via an interactive audio and video telecommunications system; and (iii) the beneficiary was at a practitioner's office or a specified medical facility — not at a beneficiary's home — during the telehealth consultation with a remote practitioner.

Relevant Persons and Entities

5. At all times relevant to this Indictment, Grapevine Professional Services, Inc. ("Grapevine") was a medical billing company, controlled and operated by ERIN FOLEY and TED ALBIN, the defendants. FOLEY and ALBIN caused Grapevine to obtain orders and prescriptions for medical goods and services, including for DME, and to use those orders and prescriptions to bill medical insurance providers, including Medicare, on behalf of Grapevine clients, including DME supply companies. In corporate registration documents, Grapevine was described as being owned by ALBIN, but in fact Grapevine was controlled and operated by FOLEY and ALBIN together.

6. At all times relevant to this Indictment, Liberty Bell Medical Supply LLC (“Liberty Bell Medical”), Skye Medical Equipment, Inc. (“Skye Medical”), Priority Medical Supply, LLC (“Priority Medical”), and A&E Medical, Inc. (“A&E Medical”) operated as DME supply companies, that is, as companies purporting to supply medically necessary DME and other medical supplies to Medicare beneficiaries, and then filing claims with Medicare and other insurers funded by Medicare, to pay for those DME supplies. Although their legal ownership and Medicare registration documents varied, Liberty Bell Medical, Skye Medical, and Priority Medical were each, in fact, controlled and operated by ERIN FOLEY and TED ALBIN, the defendants, while A&E Medical was controlled by FOLEY, ALBIN, and a co-conspirator not named herein.

THE HEALTH CARE FRAUD SCHEME AND CONSPIRACY

7. From at least in or about 2018 through at least in or about 2021, ERIN FOLEY and TED ALBIN, the defendants, together with others known and unknown, participated in a scheme and conspiracy to defraud Medicare. In furtherance of that scheme, FOLEY and ALBIN controlled and operated Grapevine, a medical billing company, which they used to submit fraudulent claims for Medicare reimbursement for DME. FOLEY and ALBIN caused Grapevine to submit such claims on behalf of Grapevine customers, which were DME supply companies that had unlawfully purchased the DME orders used to support such claims. Such DME supply companies included companies controlled and operated by FOLEY and ALBIN—including Liberty Bell Medical, Skye Medical, Priority Medical and A&E Medical—and companies controlled and operated by other Grapevine customers.

8. In addition to using Grapevine to process fraudulent Medicare DME claims on behalf of customers, ERIN FOLEY and TED ALBIN, the defendants, also acted as brokers for unlawful purchases and sales of DME orders. Among other things, FOLEY and ALBIN introduced Grapevine customers who sought unlawfully to buy DME orders to persons who sought unlawfully to sell such DME orders, with the understanding that these Grapevine customers would submit the newly purchased DME orders to Grapevine, so that Grapevine could bill Medicare. FOLEY and ALBIN thus benefitted through Grapevine's increased billing from the submission of such Medicare claims. In addition, FOLEY and ALBIN received financial kickbacks for making such introductions of buyers and sellers.

9. ERIN FOLEY and TED ALBIN, the defendants, also oversaw the operation of the DME supply companies that they controlled, and caused Liberty Bell Medical, Skye Medical, Priority Medical, and A&E Medical to unlawfully purchase orders and prescriptions for medical goods and services, including for DME, and to use those orders and prescriptions as a basis to submit additional fraudulent claims through Grapevine to Medicare.

Means and Methods of the Conspiracy

10. From in or about 2018 through in or about 2021, ERIN FOLEY and TED ALBIN, the defendants, used Grapevine to process Medicare DME claims based on orders that had been unlawfully bought and obtained through kickbacks. FOLEY and ALBIN caused Grapevine to submit at least $25 million in fraudulent DME claims to Medicare and other insurers who were reimbursed by Medicare under Part C, and caused more than $9 million to be paid out on such claims. FOLEY and ALBIN caused Grapevine to submit such claims both on behalf of DME supply companies that were owned and controlled by FOLEY and ALBIN and on behalf of DME supply companies that were owned and controlled by co-conspirators not named herein.

11. From in or about 2018 through in or about 2021, ERIN FOLEY and TED ALBIN, the defendants, unlawfully purchased DME orders, without regard to medical necessity, through DME supply companies that they owned and controlled in whole and in part, including Liberty Bell Medical, Skye Medical, Priority Medical, and A&E Medical. FOLEY and ALBIN used those unlawfully purchased DME orders to file fraudulent claims with Medicare and with other insurers reimbursed by Medicare under Part C, on behalf of these DME supply companies that FOLEY and ALBIN owned and controlled.

12. From in or about 2018 through in or about 2021, co-conspirators not named herein, who were Grapevine customers, unlawfully purchased DME orders, and then submitted those orders to Grapevine and to ERIN FOLEY and TED ALBIN, the defendants, with requests that such DME orders be used as the basis for submitting reimbursement claims to Medicare and to other insurers reimbursed by Medicare under Part C.

13. From in or about 2018 through in or about 2021, ERIN FOLEY and TED ALBIN, the defendants, received from Grapevine customers—that is, DME supply companies that were that were operated by co-conspirators not named herein—requests to submit claims to Medicare and to other insurers reimbursed by Medicare under Part C, based upon DME orders that were attached to those requests and that had—as FOLEY and ALBIN well knew—been unlawfully purchased. FOLEY and ALBIN then used those DME orders as the basis for submitting insurance claims to Medicare and to other insurers reimbursed by Medicare under Part C.

14. From in or about 2018 through at least in or about 2020, ERIN FOLEY and TED ALBIN, the defendants, introduced Grapevine customers—that is, DME supply companies controlled by co-conspirators not named herein who sought to unlawfully buy DME orders—to other co-conspirators not named herein, who unlawfully sold DME orders to such Grapevine customers. In return for such introductions, FOLEY and ALBIN received financial kickbacks and increased future billing business resulting from such introductions.

15. From in or about 2018 through at least in or about 2021, in addition to introducing such co-conspirator buyers of DME orders to such co-conspirator sellers of DME orders as described in the preceding paragraph, ERIN FOLEY and TED ALBIN, the defendants, along with Grapevine employees under their direction, oversaw the ongoing relationship between such buyers—who remained Grapevine customers—and such sellers. Such oversight included, for example, tracking the numbers of DME orders that buyers had paid for and the numbers of DME orders such buyers were owed, and communicating such information to both buyers and sellers of such DME orders. In order to conceal the criminal nature of these communications, the participants often falsely referred to DME orders as “leads” or as “marketing.”

b. On or about December 27, 2019, FOLEY sent an email to the Manhattan DME Supplier, copying two other recipients who regularly sold DME orders, introducing the owner of the Manhattan DME Supplier to one of the other recipients of that email ("Seller-1"). marketing that you may be interested in.” In truth and in fact, “marketing” was a code phrase that FOLEY and her co-conspirators regularly used to refer to DME orders.

c. On or about December 27, 2019, FOLEY sent an electronic text message to Seller-1, stating in substance and in part that FOLEY had “just introduced you” to a person who would need “leads,” adding, “My DME is called Priority, can you send me 1-2 a day please?”
