and conducted business on behalf of RTF. GILLIER is a citizen of Belgium and a resident of Canada.

3. At all times relevant to this Indictment, a co-conspirator not named as a defendant herein ("CC-1") was a co-president of RTF and president of UN Air Service, Inc., d/b/a "UAS" ("UAS"), a New York corporation engaged in the business of buying and selling aircraft parts.

("Honeywell") was a Delaware corporation and registered with the New York Secretary of State as doing business in the State of New York. At all times relevant to this Indictment, Honeywell was engaged in the business of manufacturing and selling aircraft parts through its headquarters in Arizona and in other offices located throughout the United States and abroad.

5. At all times relevant to this Indictment, Shey Systems Inc. ("Shey") was an Iowa corporation and registered with the Iowa Secretary of State as doing business in the State of Iowa. At all times relevant to this Indictment, Shey was engaged in the business of buying and selling aircraft parts with customers throughout the United States and abroad.

The Scheme to Defraud

6. From at least in or about 2004, up through and including on or about March 1, 2010, STEPHAN GILLIER, a/k/a

"Stephan Gillier," a/k/a "Stefan R.R. Gillier," a/k/a "Roland Gillier," a/k/a "Roland Van Gorp," the defendant, along with CC-1 and others, known and unknown, devised and perpetrated a scheme to defraud aircraft part manufacturers out of millions of dollars worth of aircraft parts.

7. In connection with the scheme, STEPHAN GILLIER, a/k/a "Stephan Gillier," a/k/a "Stefan R.R. Gillier," a/k/a "Roland Gillier," a/k/a "Roland Van Gorp," the defendant, along with CC-1 and others, known and unknown, caused RTF to order and receive approximately $8 million worth of aircraft parts from Honeywell, which RTF sold to third parties for a profit.

8. To execute the scheme, STEPHAN GILLIER, a/k/a "Stephan Gillier," a/k/a "Stefan R.R. Gillier," a/k/a "Roland Gillier," a/k/a "Roland Van Gorp," the defendant, among other things, signed checks to Honeywell on behalf of RTF to make it appear as though RTF was paying for the parts. After Honeywell shipped the parts to RTF, GILLIER caused stop payment orders to be placed on the checks to Honeywell. When questioned by Honeywell's employees about the stop payment orders on the checks, GILLIER, using an alias, falsely represented, in substance and in part, that the stop payment orders were the result of a misunderstanding with the bank and that he would check with RTF's finance department. In truth and fact, and as GILLIER well knew, these representations were false; GILLIER had issued the stop payment orders, and RTF did not have a finance department.

9. In furtherance of the scheme, in June 2006, at or near a time when Honeywell began seeking relief against RTF in civil court, STEPHAN GILLIER, a/k/a "Stephan Gillier," a/k/a "Stefan R.R. Gillier," a/k/a "Roland Gillier," a/k/a "Roland Van Gorp," the defendant, caused various money transfers of profits from the fraudulent scheme into bank accounts belonging to GILLIER and his family member, as well as bank accounts belonging to relatives of CC-1.
