UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT FOR THE WESTERN DISTRICT OF WASHINGTON
AT SEATTLE

UNITED STATES OF AMERICA,

Plaintiff,

v.

BRIDGETTE DOREEN EVANS a/k/a JOLENE TRAVIS, and VINNIE JOHN UWANAWICH, Defendants.

NO. CR26-100 JHC

INDICTMENT

The Grand Jury charges that:

COUNT 1

(Conspiracy to Commit Wire and Mail Fraud)

A. Overview

1. Defendants BRIDGETTE DOREEN EVANS and VINNIE JOHN UWANAWICH executed a years-long fraud that targeted emotionally distraught and vulnerable people. They pretended EVANS was a psychic who could resolve the victims' problems if the victims temporarily provided money and property (such as gold) to EVANS to use in a "cleansing" process. EVANS falsely promised she would return the money and property after the "cleansing" process, but never intended to do so. In this way, EVANS and UWANAWICH stole at least $2.5 million from at least three victims between April 2021 and July 2024.

2. EVANS created a fake identity for herself using the alias "Jolene Travis," and used that alias on social media platforms to advertise psychic services targeting people struggling with romantic or other personal problems. Many of the victims who contacted EVANS to seek help had recently experienced difficult life events like divorce, the passing of family members, feelings of social isolation or depression, or problems with romantic relationships.

3. EVANS convinced victims she could help solve their problems because she was a psychic who could provide them with protection and communicate telepathically with angels and victims' loved ones.

4. After gaining the victims' trust, EVANS told the victims she was performing psychic readings or rituals to help determine the causes of their misfortunes. EVANS told victims her phony rituals revealed the victims were "cursed," and that the "curse" was tied to the victims' money or finances. EVANS persuaded the victims to provide her with a list of all of their assets. EVANS then reported that the only way to remove the "curse" was to send money or property—typically gold, jewelry, loan proceeds, or access to financial accounts—to EVANS so that EVANS could strengthen the "cleansings" or place the items on her altar to help remove the "curse." EVANS promised victims these "clearings" or "cleansings" were temporary, that EVANS had no use for the money, and that EVANS would return the money or otherwise repay all the debts incurred as part of these ceremonies.

5. UWANAWICH helped EVANS execute the scam by vouching for EVANS's legitimacy as a psychic, maintaining financial accounts to collect proceeds from victims, and selling gold coins collected from victims to dealers.

6. Contrary to EVANS's promises, EVANS and UWANAWICH used the victims' money and property for their own purposes while lulling the victims into believing the money would be returned.

B. The Conspiracy

7. Beginning in or about at least April 17, 2021, and continuing until at least May 30, 2024, in King County, within the Western District of Washington, and elsewhere, EVANS and UWANAWICH, together with others known and unknown to the Grand Jury, did conspire, confederate and agree, together with each other, to commit the offenses of wire fraud, in violation of Title 18, United States Code, Section 1343, and mail fraud, in violation of Title 18, United States Code, Section 1341.

8. Specifically, EVANS and UWANAWICH, together with others known and unknown, with intent to defraud, knowingly devised a scheme and artifice to defraud and to obtain money and property by means of materially false and fraudulent pretenses, representations and promises. EVANS, UWANAWICH, and their co-conspirators agreed that, to execute and attempt to execute the scheme and artifice to defraud, EVANS, UWANAWICH, and other members of the conspiracy, and those acting at their direction, would transmit, and cause to be transmitted, by wire communication in interstate and foreign commerce, writings, signs, signals, pictures, and sounds. In addition, EVANS, UWANAWICH and their co-conspirators agreed that, to execute and attempt to execute the scheme and artifice to defraud, EVANS, UWANAWICH, and other members of the conspiracy, and those acting at their direction, would cause items to be sent through the mails, including through private and interstate carriers such as FedEx Corporation (FedEx) and the United States Postal Service (USPS).

9. The object of the conspiracy was to persuade emotionally vulnerable adults to temporarily provide cash, gold, jewelry, loan proceeds, financial account access, and other items of value to EVANS and her co-conspirators, supposedly to clear financial

(206) 553-7970

"curses" that had been placed on the victims and their loved ones—all based on the promise that EVANS would return the money to victims once the "curses" were cleared. In fact, as EVANS, UWANAWICH, and their co-conspirators well knew, EVANS was not a psychic; the victims were not "cursed;" and EVANS and UWANAWICH did not intend to return the property and, with the exception of a few small re-payments designed to lull the victims, never did so.

C. Manner and Means

EVANS, UWANAWICH, and their co-conspirators acted in the following manner, and used the following means, to effect the conspiracy:

a. EVANS used a fake identity to hide prior psychic fraud and lure victims on social media.

10. EVANS created accounts on social media platforms, including Instagram, using the alias "Jolene Travis" to advertise psychic services to the public. EVANS's profiles deliberately targeted victims who were having difficulty in their love lives or personal lives by offering services such as free "love readings" or other psychic services that could help victims with their relationships. Examples of EVANS's victims are referenced in this Indictment as Victims 1 through 3. At all relevant times, Victim 1 resided in King County in the Western District of Washington.

11. EVANS used the alias in part to prevent her targets from learning that EVANS had numerous prior convictions for psychic frauds in Florida and Texas. EVANS knew that if she used her real name, her targets might discover news articles about these convictions.

b. EVANS lied about herself and victims' circumstances to gain victims' trust.

12. EVANS initiated the fraud and gained victims' trust using a series of lies that preyed on victims' vulnerabilities. EVANS convinced victims to disclose information about their assets and financial accounts to her, which allowed EVANS to target specific assets or sources of money for the fraud. Then, EVANS convinced victims they were "cursed" and could only remove the "curse" by working with EVANS on "cleansings."

SEATTLE, WASHINGTON 98101

13. For example, in April 2021, Victim 1, who was drawn in by EVANS's social media posts, contacted EVANS for help with her love life. Victim 1 was struggling with a difficult romantic relationship at the time. EVANS, who used the "Jolene Travis" alias, told Victim 1 she had a "dark cloud" hanging over her, and that EVANS could help her get rid of the "bad energy." EVANS claimed she could communicate with "angels" and that she specialized in helping people cleanse this kind of "bad energy."

14. EVANS told Victim 1 she had performed a meditation to identify the source of Victim 1's bad energy. EVANS said Victim 1's former romantic partner still had strong feelings for her, and their relationship problems were caused by the fact that Victim 1 was suffering from a "curse" that had "to be cleared." EVANS convinced Victim 1 to send EVANS information about her financial accounts, and then reported that the "curse" was "money related" because Victim 1 had a "karmic debt" that needed to be repaid. EVANS offered to help perform the "financial cleansing" that Victim 1 needed to clear her "curse." EVANS told Victim 1 she would be reunited with her partner if Victim 1 followed EVAN's instructions.

15. Victim 2 was also drawn in by EVANS's "Jolene Travis" social media posts. Victim 2 confided in EVANS about Victim 2's personal and relationship problems. EVANS told Victim 2 EVANS could communicate with "angels" about Victim 2's problems and could engage in "telepathic conversations" with Victim 2's loved ones. EVANS claimed these abilities would help EVANS fix Victim 2's troubled relationships and protect Victim 2 from additional negative life events.

16. EVANS convinced Victim 2 that Victim 2's former romantic partner was being scammed financially by an evil new relationship partner. EVANS said the "bad energy" from that evil partner formed a "curse" on Victim 2 that prevented Victim 2 from reuniting with her former partner. EVANS reported that the "angels" told EVANS the "curse" was tied to money, which meant Victim 2 could clear the "curse" only through a "money cleansing" involving the transfer of funds to EVANS. EVANS said the "cleansing" would take 14 days, and that Victim 2's relationship issues would be fixed after that "cleansing." EVANS promised she would return the money to Victim 2 after 14 days.

UNITED STATES ATTORNEY

SEATTLE, WASHINGTON 98101
(206) 553-7970

17. Victim 3 contacted EVANS via the "Jolene Travis" Instagram accounts in in response to advertisements offering free "love readings." Victim 3 confided to EVANS that she had been having relationship problems and difficulty with feelings of isolation. EVANS convinced Victim 3 to provide EVANS with information about her financial accounts. EVANS then informed Victim 3 that Victim 3 was experiencing adverse life events, financial trouble, and relationship issues because Victim 3 was plagued by a "karmic block" or "karmic debt." EVANS said the "angels" told EVANS that Victim 3 needed to complete a "financial cleansing" to clear her debt because the debt was tied to money. EVANS reported that Victim 3 needed to transfer money or other items of value to EVANS as a "temporary sacrifice" and that Victim 3's problems would be resolved after the cleansing.

c. EVANS convinced victims to send millions to complete their cleansings.

18. The purpose of EVANS's lies was to extract money from victims. EVANS promised victims that her "cleansing" work would provide "protection" for victims. EVANS repeatedly told victims the "angels" said victims needed to provide more money to strengthen or complete the "cleansing." Evans also convinced victims that certain financial accounts or items of value were part of the "curse" and needed to be given to EVANS as part of the "cleansing." Evans also warned victims that victims and their loved ones would suffer additional adverse consequences—including even death or

700 STEWART STREET, SUITE 5220
SEATTLE, WASHINGTON 98101
(206) 553-7970

suicidal ideations—if victims did not provide the money that EVANS needed to complete the "cleansing."

19. EVANS promised victims their "cleansings" were temporary and that EVANS would repay the money and return the items of value once the process had completed. EVANS told victims her family members were employed and independently wealthy, so she would not need to keep the money that victims were sending.

20. EVANS tricked victims into believing EVANS was communicating telepathically with the people in victims' lives. Based on these communications, EVANS told victims they would start having positive outcomes in their lives and relationships if victims would allow EVANS more time to complete her "cleansings."

21. The following are a sampling of the transactions that EVANS persuaded victims to execute as part of this fraud:

a. EVANS persuaded Victim 1 to liquidate financial accounts that EVANS claimed were "cursed," and to wire more than $2.1 million from those accounts to gold shops in Florida and Washington to purchase gold coins. EVANS directed Victim 1 to mail or personally deliver the gold coins to EVANS because EVANS purportedly needed to place them on her altar as part of the "cleansing."

b. Between April 2021 and September 2023, Victim 1 sent EVANS and her co-conspirators more than $83,000 via electronic payments made through Zelle, Apple Cash, wire transfer, and CashApp for purposes of furthering EVANS's "cleansing" work.

c. EVANS persuaded Victim 1 to sell Victim 1's home by telling Victim 1 the home was part of the curse. She directed Victim 1 to use the proceeds to purchase gold coins and to mail the gold coins to EVANS and her co-conspirators.

UNITED STATES ATTORNEY

(206) 553-7970

d. EVANS convinced Victim 1 to settle her divorce for a lump sum instead of taking monthly alimony payments because the divorce proceedings and money from the divorce were one of the sources of Victim 1's "bad energy." Victim 1 received a lump sum payment in August 2023. EVANS directed Victim 1 to use the proceeds to buy gold coins and deliver them to EVANS and her co-conspirators for the "cleansing."

e. EVANS persuaded Victim 2 to send EVANS and her co-conspirators more than $86,000 via electronic payments made through Zelle, Apple Cash, wire transfer, and Cash App for purposes of furthering EVANS's "cleansing" work.

f. EVANS convinced Victim 3 to give EVANS and her co-conspirators access to Victim 3's credit card accounts by reporting that charges on Victim 3's accounts would help pay off Victim 3's "karmic debts." EVANS and her co-conspirators used the accounts to purchase luxury goods, hotel stays, vacation rentals, airline flights, gold coins, jewelry, and other items of value. Between February 2023 and December 2023, EVANS and her co-conspirators charged more than $88,000 to Victim 3's American Express and J.P. Morgan Chase credit cards.

g. EVANS convinced Victim 3 to take out a loan for more than $100,000 to pay for a $125,000 Chevrolet Corvette that was delivered to EVANS in Florida for purposes of completing the "cleansing" ceremony.

22. EVANS failed to return the foregoing money and property as she had promised.

d. EVANS lied and sent occasional lulling payments to victims to keep the scam going.

23. When victims started asking for the repayments EVANS had promised, EVANS, UWANAWICH, and their co-conspirators concocted more lies to extend the scam and used small lulling payments to keep victims at bay.

24. For example, EVANS regularly told victims she could not return the money or gold coins because their "cleansings" were only partially complete or the amounts provided by victims up to that point were not strong enough to complete the "cleansings." EVANS used these lies to extract more proceeds from victims by telling them the only way they could get their money back was by completing or strengthening the "cleansing," which required more money.

25. As another example, when Victim 2 began demanding repayment, EVANS claimed she could not send the money as promised because her husband, "John," had become gravely ill and was in and out of the hospital. After months of additional delays and no money returned from EVANS, Victim 2 informed EVANS that Victim 2 was going to report EVANS to law enforcement if her money was not returned. In response, EVANS falsely told Victim 2 that "John" had died. In fact, EVANS was in a romantic relationship with UWANAWICH, who used the alias "John," and who had not died, but instead was conspiring with EVANS to defraud Victim 2 and other victims.

26. EVANS, UWANAWICH, and their co-conspirators occasionally made lulling payments to Victim 1 and Victim 3 to maintain the victims' trust and keep the scam going. These lulling payments typically came from UWANAWICH's accounts or accounts belonging to other co-conspirators.

27. Some of the lulling payments to one victim were made from proceeds stolen from another victim. For example, on or about October 6, 2023, Victim 3 reported to EVANS that she needed money to make payments on accounts EVANS had caused

700 STEWART STREET, SUITE 5220
SEATTLE, WASHINGTON 98101
(206) 553-7970

Victim 3 to open. Through a co-conspirator, EVANS collected $900 from Victim 1 and, within 15 minutes of receiving it, sent the $900 to Victim 3.

28. EVANS and UWANAWICH used the lulling payments to give victims the impression that EVANS was following through on her promises to repay victims or return items of value victims had provided to EVANS. However, the lulling payments totaled less than approximately 6% of the value EVANS and UWANAWICH had collected from the victims.

e. UWANAWICH and other co-conspirators help EVANS defraud victims and execute the scheme

29. UWANAWICH knew of EVANS's prior fraud convictions for psychic fraud. UWANAWICH nonetheless worked with EVANS and other co-conspirators in furtherance of the scheme. UWANAWICH set up payment processor accounts in his name to receive proceeds of EVANS's fraud, he managed financial accounts that received payments from victims, he met in person with victims on multiple occasions, and he misled victims about the psychic work that EVANS was performing.

30. For example, UWANAWICH met with Victim 1 on at least three occasions when Victim 1 flew to meet EVANS in Florida to deliver gold coins to EVANS. UWANAWICH went by "John" when interacting with Victim 1. UWANAWICH drove EVANS and Victim 1 to the gold shop, banks, and the jewelry shop where Victim 1 purchased a Rolex during Victim 1's trips to Florida, and he was present when Victim 1 delivered gold coins and the Rolex watch to EVANS.

31. UWANAWICH managed many of the bank accounts and payment processor accounts that EVANS used to receive victim payments. For example, UWANAWICH registered a CashApp account with a display name of "Jolene Travis" using his name, driver's license, and other personally identifying information. The account was linked to UWANAWICH's bank accounts. Between June 2022 and

700 STEWART STREET, SUITE 5220
SEATTLE, WASHINGTON 98101
(206) 553-7970

December 2023, that CashApp account received over $250,000 in peer-to-peer payments, including more than $43,500 in payments received from Victims 1-3, and additional payments from others for "psychic" or "cleansing" work. More than $119,000 of the funds deposited into this account were transferred directly into UWANAWICH's personal bank accounts.

32. UWANAWICH and EVANS travelled to New York, New York to persuade Victim 3 to sign loan and purchase paperwork for the Chevrolet Corvette purchase in Victim 3's name. EVANS and UWANAWICH charged their hotel room and flights from New York back to Florida to Victim 3's credit card. EVANS and UWANAWICH also charged thousands of dollars to Victim 3's credit card at luxury retail stores while they were in New York.

33. On or about December 8, 2023, EVANS pleaded guilty in Florida to a separate psychic fraud and was sentenced to serve time in custody. During the time EVANS was incarcerated, EVANS, UWANAWICH, and other co-conspirators continued the fraud scheme. During this time, one or more of the co-conspirators assumed the "Jolene Travis" alias and continued to communicate with, and deceive, Victims 1 and 3. Posing as "Jolene," the co-conspirators routinely reported to Victims 1 and 3 that "Jolene" was in "isolation," at "the altar," or "with the angels" focusing on her psychic work and the "protection" that she was putting up for the victims. When victims asked for updates on the status of the cleansing, the co-conspirators posing as "Jolene" told victims to stay patient and let her finish the work.

34. While EVANS was incarcerated, Victim 3 messaged EVANS's phone after she received notification that the Corvette EVANS had convinced Victim 3 to purchase was impounded. The co-conspirator purporting to be "Jolene" responded that the Corvette had been towed from outside the apartment where one of EVANS's family

700 STEWART STREET, SUITE 5220
SEATTLE, WASHINGTON 98101
(206) 553-7970

members, B.M., was living. "Jolene" reported the car had been stored at B.M.'s apartment because it had negative energy that needed to be kept away from the altar.

35. UWANAWICH called Victim 3 about the Corvette on or about February 2, 2024. During that call, UWANAWICH reported that "Jolene" was in "isolation" continuing to protect Victim 3 and attempted to convince Victim 3 to surrender the Corvette instead of forcing EVANS to pay to get it out of impound and sell it back to the dealership. After that call, UWANAWICH began messaging with Victim 3 about the Corvette in furtherance of the fraud.

36. By at least April 2024, while EVANS was still incarcerated, Victim 1 and Victim 3 had uncovered information about EVANS's true identity and prior frauds. As a result, Victims 1 and 3 started to understand they had been defrauded and confronted EVANS at the phone number they had previously used to contact "Jolene." In response, the co-conspirator who had assumed the "Jolene" alias lied and denied the allegations from Victims 1 and 3. UWANAWICH also contacted Victims 1 and 3 on EVANS's behalf and sent additional lulling payments to Victim 1 to try to keep the fraud going.

f. EVANS, UWANAWICH, and their co-conspirators stole at least $2.5 million from victims.

37. EVANS, UWANAWICH, and their co-conspirators used these fraudulent promises, pretenses, and representations to persuade victims, including but not limited to Victims 1 through 3, to send them at least approximately $2.5 million. EVANS, UWANAWICH, and their co-conspirators spent the victims' money on luxury goods for themselves and their family, living expenses, entertainment, and other items.

g. Use of interstate wires and the mails.

38. EVANS, UWANAWICH, and their co-conspirators used and directed the use of interstate and foreign wires in various ways in furtherance of the scheme to defraud. For example:

a. EVANS, UWANAWICH, and their co-conspirators frequently contacted victims via text message and social media messages in furtherance of the "Jolene Travis" psychic fraud. These contacts involved use of interstate wires, including interstate wires originating, terminating, or passing through the Western District of Washington;

b. EVANS, UWANAWICH, and their co-conspirators contacted victims through telephone conversations, which involved interstate wires, including interstate wires originating, terminating, or passing through the Western District of Washington;

c. EVANS, UWANAWICH, and their co-conspirators directed their victims to send money by wire transmission or other payment processing companies, which involved use of the interstate wires, including interstate wires originating, terminating, or passing through the Western District of Washington.

39. EVANS, UWANAWICH, and their co-conspirators used and directed the use of the mails in various ways in furtherance of the scheme to defraud. For example, EVANS directed victims, including Victim 1 and Victim 3 to send cash, gold coins, or other items of value to EVANS by mail at addresses controlled by EVANS, UWANAWICH, and their co-conspirators. The mailings included mailings that originated, terminated, or passed through the Western District of Washington
