JUSTICE DEPARTMENT AWARDS $192 MILLION TO ADVANCE FORENSIC SCIENCE

Since 2004, the Office of Justice Programs has received an annual appropriation for DNA and other forensic science activities. The funding is administered through OJP's Bureau of Justice Assistance and National Institute of Justice and supports DNA analysis, laboratory capacity enhancement and forensic science research that provides knowledge and tools to improve the quality and practice of forensic science.

Bureau of Justice Assistance ($165.4 million)

DNA Capacity Enhancement and Backlog Reduction Program ($80.7 million)

The program has been a source of funding to states and local jurisdictions since 2011. The funding is awarded to states, then divided among eligible crime labs within the state. The awards assist with increasing the capacity for DNA analysis and the number of DNA samples, while decreasing the backlog and turnaround time for DNA analysis. Recipients may use funding to upgrade laboratories and purchase equipment and supplies, such as DNA sample collection kits.
